Mayor will run again

After a three year term in office, Mayor Dick Plain of St. Albert told the press Tuesday morning he's running again for mayor.

And it looks as if he is looking forward to the electioneering.

So far as is known he will have two other candidates running against him, former Calgary alderman Tom Pridle and St. Albert businessman Ron Harvey.

Mayor Plain said, "September 21 I will be filing my nomination papers in what should be a fairly exciting mayoralty campaign in the city."

In a studied statement he also said, "I have given careful consideration over the last three months over whether to run for mayor in St. Albert. After thorough discussion with my family and wife ... and campaign chairman ... I have come to Please Turn to Page 2

District 3 gives fast response to enrollment concerns

Two delegations of parents, about 50 all told, representing students attending Bertha Kennedy and Albert Lacombe schools put forward alternate solutions to District 3's enrollment problems at the Board's regular meeting Monday.

The Bertha Kennedy delegation was upset at the Board's decision to remove some grade 2 and 3 students from Bertha Kennedy and place them in Father Jan. The move was made to reduce the student-teacher ratio to an acceptable level without the expense of additional teacher hirings. Students chosen for the move were those most distant from Bertha Kennedy and presently in a busing situation.

Spokesman for the Bertha Kennedy group, Barry Caplan, expressed concern that the Board was using a 'factory' approach to a school supposedly set up on the community core concept. The children were being treated like 'midgets'.

The parents feared the move would only be temporary and their children would face the possibility of another move in the future.

Many of the parents had already spent many hours assisting the children at Please Turn to Page 2

Pool, Arena openings set back

Mayor Dick Plain said last week the city's new arena could likely be set for a December 20 opening, not November 20 as had previously been forecast.

Wet conditions are blamed for the delay in getting both the arena in Akinsdale and the swimming pool near Fountain Park off the ground on time.

The swimming pool is not likely to open before March 15 next year, a month later than hoped for.

The mayor made the revised predictions on the opening of the facilities at a special meeting of council last week.

The meeting had been held to round off the agenda of the regular council meeting held September 6.

Gazette chastised for August 31 editorial

The Gazette was gently taken to task for an "erroneous" editorial in its August 31 issue at a special meeting of St. Albert council September 8.

Absent from the special council meeting were Aldermen Gary Wetsch, Rod Thronson and Myrna Fyfe.

The special meeting had been called "simply to deal with factual points" as St. Albert Mayor Dick Plain put it, and a request to the Gazette for corrections. Three aldermen did not attend the 1 1/4 hour session.

"The errors warrant nothing more than a brief unemotional note," said Alderman Barry Breadner.

Alderman Frank Lukay was quite angered by an allegation that council decisions were rigged, particularly if they came from the four member Municipal Planning Commission and then had "no chance to be defeated."

"I have played as important a part in decisions as others, including the mayor," said Mr. Lukay, adding, "I do not want to give all the credit to the mayor."

Mayor Plain agreed with this saying, "no one person can carry it out, without the consensus of the group elected to discharge the function."

Mrs. Smith said: "I suggest when a majority votes on a particular matter, this policy has been set by seven people - this impression is not given by the article." She suggested that the editorial had completely ignored the input of staff aspect.

Ron Harvey will seek Mayor's office

A businessman who has made his home in St. Albert for 22 years, Mr. Ron Harvey, announced this week that he will run for mayor in the October municipal election.

Mr. Harvey sees a definite need to establish favourable relations with the neighbouring municipalities of Edmonton, MD Sturgeon and Morinville. St. Albert is interdependent with these municipalities in a number of areas, said Mr. Harvey, and we should try to resolve any differences on the basis of mutual agreement, rather than as adversaries. "That is not to say that St. Albert needs to concede too much," he added, "but if elected I would call on elected representatives and officials of all these municipalities to investigate how we can negotiate solutions to various problems.

The same approach is needed in dealing with St.

Albert's two school boards, said Mr. Harvey.

"I am standing for election to serve the people - not for any honour or glory. I used to be proud of St. Albert," he went on, "the oldest town in Alberta, and I am not happy with the change in name."

He said he would like to have a close look into what benefits were actually gained through city status, and what benefits were lost.

Mr. Harvey has been in the general insurance business all his working life, and retired last month as president of Harvey Agencies and Co. Ltd., which is a subsidiary of Reed, Shaw, Stenhouse Ltd., an international insurance brokerage firm and one of the largest in Please Turn to Page 2

Sturgeon expansion official

Following an Order in Council, the MD of Sturgeon expanded to eight divisions from seven this week.

The expansion ties in with the recent provincial government decision to add part of Thorhild County, including the town of Redwater to the MD of Sturgeon.

The new MD division will have its own representation. For the moment that is being done by former Thorhild county's division one councillor Walter Wolansky, who joined the county in 1969.

Mr. Wolansky will represent the new division till the upcoming fall election, when his post will become vacant. Mr. Wolansky will run in the fall election.

Mr. Wolansky said he sees no problems with the changeover, even though there has been some controversy. He will "see how things come along."

"We would like to give better road services in this area and recreation also," said Mr. Wolansky.

Roman Catholic cemetery investigation

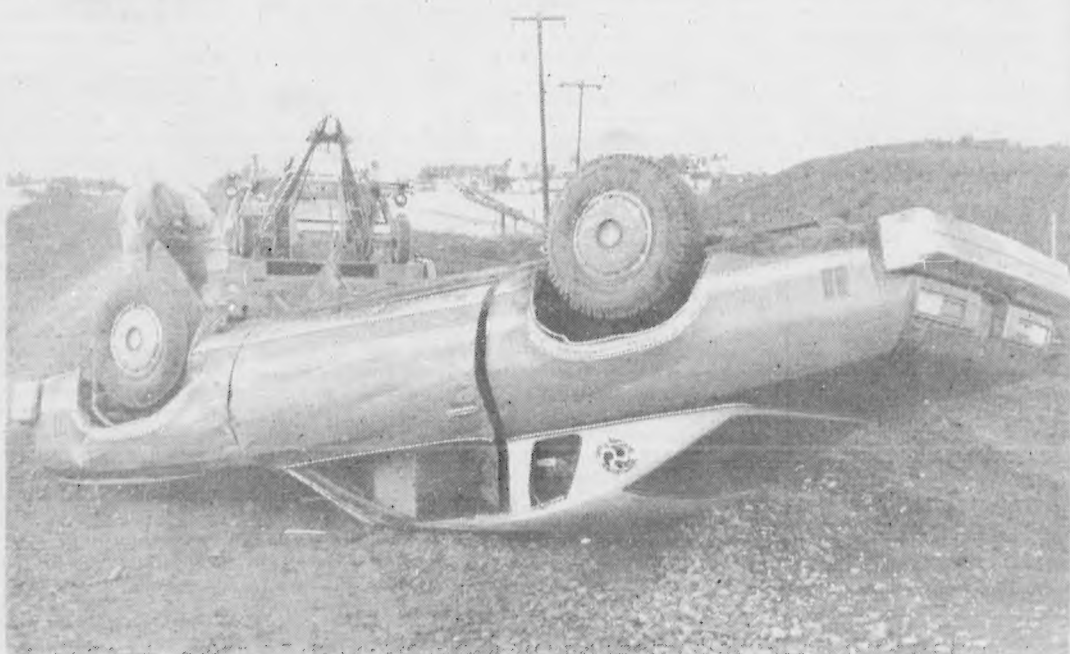

There have been no recent developments concerning the damage done to the Roman Catholic Cemetery, but the matter is under active investigation by the RCMP at St. Albert.

A local resident is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible. If anyone has any information, please contact the RCMP at St. Albert, 459-7721.

Asked what he thought his chances were in the upcoming fight, the mayor stated he looked forward to the challenge.

Asked if he feared that allegations in the St. Albert Gazette might hamper his election campaign, Mayor Plain said, "The St. Albert Gazette is operated by the MLA and publisher - in the last analysis, and the MLA must account to the people, no matter how they use the paper, whether it is used correctly or incorrectly."

Mayor Plain added that the paper and the MLA were irrelevant to the whole campaign.

Commenting on the St. Albert council, Mayor Plain said perhaps "We are the only council where any citizen may walk through the door without an appointment, where citizens can address any question to all members of council without any types of written queries."

On the Municipal Planning Commission the mayor said it was open to all citizens and was not a planning commission of bureaucrats.

OUTLINES GROWTH AND ACHIEVEMENTS

Mayor Plain said St. Albert had grown from a town to a city into managed growth, and from a satellite town to one which was now looking at light industrial and commercial developments.

There was the 180 Campbell Industrial Park and a large regional shopping centre coming into town, under the joint co-operation of Abacus Cities and the Hudson Bay Company.

Over the past two years, the city had developed a swimming pool and arena facility.

And the mayor continued that after St. Albert had established its "sovereign" boundaries, these were now being respected by Edmonton, which could be annexing land right up to the Restricted Development Area (RDA).

"St. Albert and Edmonton now have an understanding of where their boundaries lie in this area," Mayor Plain stated.

On the question of whether or not the St. Albert mayor should have a full time position, Mayor Plain said St. Albert had to be run by a chief executive officer in the sixth largest city in Alberta.

As an associate professor at the University of Alberta Mayor Plain said if re-elected he will take full time leave of absence from the university.

In the context of what the city had achieved over the past three years, Mayor Plain warned that if decisions were reversed, they (the people who changed them) "will run into extreme difficulties."

Mayor Plain emphasized that decent traffic access in the Edmonton St. Albert corridor would be a top priority if he were re-elected.

Questioned about his last campaign expenses, Mayor Plain pointed out these came to about $650-$1,000. He also said that any surplus funds from his campaign would be donated to charity or to the betterment of the St. Albert library.

He said an audited statement of his campaign expenses would be available at the end of the campaign.

Bertha Kennedy in line with the "community core" concept and were more than willing to continue the practice.

Alternate choices suggested by the group included: developing Father Jan as a junior high school and Bertha Kennedy as an elementary; combining the grade 2 and 3 classes at Father Jan (at present the total enrollment of these two classes is lower than the Bertha Kennedy class) and using the "freed" teacher to handle a grade 2-3 split at Bertha Kennedy.

Board members explained the delegation of the financial restrictions under which they were forced to operate which led to the juggling of students between schools as well as the fact that many students at other schools were in a similar position and have been so in the past.

Roger Bourbonnais, representing the Albert Lacombe parents, explained to Board members the groups concern with overcrowded grade 4 classes. The students in the two classes had been plagued with a similar situation since grade 1 and Mr. Bourbonnais felt it was time the students received a "break". Space is available at Albert Lacombe and the parents felt another teacher was needed to reduce the classroom ratio.

Board Chairman Steve Sieben, thanked the delegations and referred the matter to a closed session following the regular meeting.

When contacted Tuesday regarding the matter, Dr. Bill Zielinski, District 3 superintendent, informed the Gazette of the Board's decision.

Enrollment problems at Bertha Kennedy will be relieved by the addition of one full time teacher to take a grade 5-6 split class and one half-time teacher to take a grade 2-3 split class in the mornings.

The teacher taking the 2-3 split will teach core subjects (math, science, language arts, etc.) thus reducing the pupil teacher ratio in the crucial areas. Subjects like art, phys. ed, do not require a similarly low ratio and will therefore be handled by a single teacher.

The Albert Lacombe situation has been resolved by the addition of one half time teacher to decrease the ratio in the grade 4 classes.

The new teachers should be in the classrooms sometime this week.

She continued, "I hope we will continue to be in the situation where whoever is the mayor will be pulled up by council if the majority decision is not represented."

Mayor Plain was also stung by the editorial's point about the composition of the MPC. He cited examples which showed that St. Albert's MPC did not fare badly - in terms of make-up - when compared with other municipalities in the province. And he suggested that St. Albert's MPC was open and "held open" and the "statement is just completely incorrect."

Issue was also taken with the criticism that St. Albert does not need a FULL time mayor, because it eliminates others in the community who would like a crack at the job.

"The position of full time mayor was a unanimous decision of the council," said Mr. Bredner.

Mr. Lukay did not understand the view that people could be eliminated if the position of mayor was full time; "the work load at town hall is a full time job."

On criticism of St. Albert's handling of the fire agreement with the MD of Sturgeon in the editorial, Mr. Bredner said, "this council is unanimously agreed we are not prepared to fight fires in the MD till we get equitable support ... we are fighting 25 percent of the fires on two percent of the budget."

On the editorials broaching of the conflict between St. Albert and its two school boards, and development agreements between the bodies, Mayor Plain said it was difficult to see how the "actions of the city affect the school board," Mr. Lukay added, "I do not see how you can interpret it as encroaching on the economy of school affairs."

Regarding criticism of a recent industrial land purchase, Mr. Bredner said the (government) had found nothing wrong with it, and the way it - the editorial - had been laid out was quite unfair.

On reference to St. Albert's $30,000 downtown core and the $20,000 per month interest allegedly being paid, City Administrator Bob Byron pointed out a $2.4 million debenture would have had to be taken out by St. Albert on the downtown core, if the interest rate was to come to $20,000 a month. But the debenture was only $1.2 million, which would only mean interest of $10,000 a month being charged, Mr. Byron outlined.

Mr. Byron also pointed out that a $300,000 court house has been earmarked for the downtown core by the provincial government.

On the criticism that St. Albert's present council had not honoured sewer agreements made by the former council with Morinville and the MD of Sturgeon, Mayor Plain outlined the following.

He said that after 1974, St. Albert had entered an agreement with Morinville on the question of sewage disposal, "but Morinville had not been able to exercise it, because of negotiations with the MD of Sturgeon."

The mayor emphasized that there never had been an agreement between the MD of Sturgeon and St. Albert for the provision of sewage facilities.

Alderwoman Margaret Smith suggested almost one point a paragraph editorial was not accurate.

Harvey

Canada.
He was the first chairman of the Protestant school board, formed in 1958 and served on the board for 12 years, 10 as chairman and two as trustee, before resigning in 1970. Mr. Harvey was also a member of the board of trustees of the St. Albert United Church for eight years. He is a member of the St. Albert Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, and of the Sturgeon Valley Golf Club.

Mr. Harvey was also one of a group of businessmen who stepped in to save the St. Albert curling rink when the mortgage company was going to foreclose. The group signed a note for $90,000 to pay off the contractors.

While on the school board he worked along with Dave Fraser of the Catholic school board and Mayor Bill Veness to sign the first joint use agreement. This agreement under which the school boards and the town arranged for joint use of school grounds and facilities was the first of its kind in the province.

Mr. Harvey said he could be available full time if and when needed, but feels that mayor and council should give direction and rely on administrators to carry them out. Some duties should be delegated to councillors, but I would always be available to attend meetings with them if that is what they wished, giving ERPC as an example. He feels also that there is too much staff at the moment, and attention must increasingly be paid in all departments to what is affordable.

"I am not an expert on municipal affairs," said Mr. Harvey, "but what I don't know I can find out. I have never been frightened in my years in business to admit I didn't know the answer to a client's question, but I found the answers." Mr. Harvey said he didn't consider himself a professional going into municipal politics.

Mr. Harvey and his wife Joan have two sons, both of whom were educated in St. Albert schools. Shawn lives in St. Albert and the older son, Tony in Edmonton.

St. Albert future Utility capital?

If city council's vision for the future of St. Albert comes true, the city will wind up as "Utility Capital of Alberta."

Councillor Myrna Fyfe used this designation at Monday night's meeting of committee of the whole of city council. The remark was made during a discussion of a letter from Dr. Allan Warrack, minister of Utilities and Telephones.

Dr. Warrack's letter was written in response to a letter from Mayor Dick Plain regarding the possibility of the development of sub-regional offices here for Alberta Government Telephones. The mayor saw Dr. Warrack's response to his suggestions as "encouraging" as did Mrs. Fyfe.

The mayor stated that first breakthrough in the realm of sub-regional development came when Calgary Power opened a sub-regional office here. The mayor then stated that although AGT is presently headquartered in Edmonton, Edmonton itself does not support the provincial telephone system, although it provides the employees for its head office.

Alderman Fyfe pointed out that in the event of the decentralization of AGT, employees now working at the Edmonton office would not have to relocate if a sub-regional office were established in St. Albert.

Committee of the whole Chairman Gary Wetsch moved that the letter be received, and the motion carried.

Dave Miller, five - year resident seeks council seat

Dave Miller, manager of Eaton's Warehouse Store on St. Albert Trail, has thrown his hat into the ring for a position on St. Albert council. It is Mr. Miller's first bid for any elected office, but he believes people should take part in the affairs of their community and decided after some "serious thought" to run for alderman. He has lived in St. Albert since June of 1972.

"Something has to be done," Mr. Miller told the Gazette. "There are major decisions needed, but so much infighting and pettiness goes on - things you would expect in a kindergarten." He said he could devote the time necessary

He feels Mayor Plain may have arrived on the scene too early - "perhaps further down the road if St. Albert had a population of say 100,000, his ideas on how we should go would make sense. Right now I think he's running us into the ground.

Mr. Miller is concerned that taxes and problems of land are going to cripple residents, and also mentioned costs of bus and ambulance services. "Bus costs worry me," he said. "It is a necessary service but is not catering to the needs of people, and it appears it is not being properly run."

Mr. Miller was sorry to see St. Albert go to city status. "I saw this happen to St. James in the Winnipeg metropolitan area, and it turned out many areas gradually came under the control of Winnipeg and our taxes went up. So many people wished later they had not gone that route, he added. Already in St. Albert I have seen many people move out, said Mr. Miller, because they can't afford to live here any longer.

without any problems, and would try to work with people to benefit the community. "Elected people mostly listen to the people and work with them - that is the only way," he said.

After five years service in the Royal Navy, Mr. Miller went into the retail business in Scotland in 1949 and emigrated to Canada in 1958. After working three weeks in Montreal he went to Winnipeg where he got a job at Eaton's. In order to earn money for his wife and daughter's passage and to get established in a home, he worked at three jobs finishing with a stint of washing dishes at the Royal Alex Hotel from midnight till 4 a.m. He got into management with Eaton's in 1960 and has had his own store since 1969. When first transferred from Winnipeg he was involved with the opening and management of the Londonderry store.

The Millers have four daughters and one son, three of them still at home. Dave is 50 years old.

Other concerns of Mr. Miller include more activities for older teen-agers, and giving them a sense of belonging in the community.

He has worked with navy cadets in Winnipeg. He feels priorities should be established, "so that continuing problems are not always turning up on the docket," and feels he could help solve some of these problems, aided to some degree by his experience in business. He also feels there is something wrong with one meeting in four behind closed doors, and not all administrative matters should be that secretive.

And he thinks the cultural aspects of community life need more attention. St. Albert is small, he noted but there is not enough blending of the old with the new.

There is a lot of emphasis on hockey, said Mr. Miller, but the arena does not get year-round use for young people's activities. And he personally spent some time for an estimate on covering the Grosvenor swimming pool and enlarging it for games rooms, and was told a few years ago this was an engineeringly-sound project.

Mr. Miller concluded by saying he senses a lot of apathy in the community, which he felt was partly due to a rather transient population. "But I hear a lot of people complaining and I hope when the time comes they will at least cast a ballot."

Smith to run again

St. Albert alderwoman Margaret Smith will be running again for office this fall, after a full term on council.

She says she has consulted her husband about whether she should run again and the green light has been given.

Mrs. Smith admits that council is a demanding job, but she also says "it is satisfying."

Businessman will run for office on school board

Mr. Gary Hodgins, a businessman in St. Albert for the past 10 years, and a man active in community life, will campaign for office on the Protestant school district. He made this decision some time ago and regularly attended board meetings over the winter months to become better informed on the work of a trustee.

Mr. Hodgins started the Pacific 66 service station in St. Albert in 1967, selling out to establish St. Albert Tire and Auto Repair with his brother in 1975. Shortly afterwards this firm expanded into the recreational vehicle business under the name Trailer Town, a divi-

Mr. Hodgins emphasized a number of areas which he considers important in the work of the school board.

In the area of education he believes students need a strong foundation, with emphasis given to the "three R's." He will also encourage more emphasis in the classroom on our Canadian heritage.

Leadership and sound management in school board affairs were particularly stressed by Mr. Scott Friese when announcing this week that he will seek office on the Protestant School Board.

Mr. Friese is self-employed in the construction industry and has lived in St. Albert for five years. He has a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Saskatchewan and was raised on a farm in that province.

Until recently he was Edmonton regional director for Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs, responsible for consumer education, family finance counselling, investigation and mediation of consumer complaints, audit credit practices and licensing of trades and business. He is 34 years old.

Mr. Friese feels his background will assist him in working for sound management of the educational tax dollar.

Council endorses radio station

By Vicky Knight
Meeting Monday night in committee of the whole, city council declared its unanimous support for a proposed radio station to be located in St. Albert.

Mr. Robert A. Russell,

president of St. Albert Broadcasting Ltd., appeared before the committee to inform them that his company will once again apply to the CRTC for permission to operate the station here. Mr. Russell requested that the council support the application, and asked that the mayor be authorized to appear at the CRTC hearing on behalf of the City of St. Albert. The hearing is scheduled for December 15, 1977 in Edmonton.

In his presentation to the committee Mr. Russell stated that the programming proposed for the station has not changed from the last application. He said programs would be geared to St. Albert events, and remarked that the station's coverage of council "won't be subject to the same kind of interpretation as seen in some other areas."

Mr. Russell stated that there had been some change in the situation since the last application to the CRTC, in that St. Albert is now a city, with a multi-million dollar shopping centre going in. He commented that local advertisers can't always buy suitable time on the Edmonton stations.

Councillor Rod Thronson stated that he thought the "idea was excellent" and asked Mr. Russell if anything had been added or changed from the original application.

Mr. Russell said it was the same, but remarked that he expected interventions from Edmonton radio stations.

Councillor Myrna Fyfe stated that a separate radio station would re-inforce St. Albert's desire to remain independent from Edmonton. Mrs. Fyfe remarked that she had never heard an advertisement for a local business on an Edmonton station, although she said she knew that they were broadcasted.

Mayor Plain asked Mr. Russell if the city's brief could be set forth to rebut points made by the interveners.

Mr. Russell responded that although the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce had not been allowed to speak for the station at the last hearing, but the Chamber and the City will appear at this hearing as part of the station's delegation. He said the mayor would be able to air his views on news coverage and other matters.

Councillor Rod Thronson then moved that council support St. Albert Broadcasting in its application for a radio station in St. Albert. The motion received unanimous support.

Councillor Smith then moved that the mayor and the city manager be authorized to appear at the hearing on behalf of the city. This motion also carried.

changing growth patterns. Students, teachers and administrators should have adequate materials, supplies and support staff to provide top quality education, in Mr. Friese's view. He would support also policies that ensure creative classroom environments.

Greater parent involvement would improve understanding of what is happening in today's school, said Mr. Friese, and should be encouraged.

Other objectives Mr. Friese would work for if elected include promoting the use of all available resources, including planned use of school facilities after normal school hours.

In order to better prepare students for competing in today's complex world, Mr. Friese would provide policies to ensure a solid basis for education in areas of the three R's. As a board member he plans to take part in constructive debate. This will require being a good listener, said Mr. Friese, and a readiness to accept responsibility, as well as maintaining an open mind.

Finally he is committed to sound financial decision making and to assisting with constructive negotiations to prevent strikes or other disruptions in the education process.

Mr. Friese has been active in the Lions Club and has worked on church committees. He and his wife Carole have two boys. Comments or questions would be welcomed by Mr. Friese at his home phone, 459-8774.

Hearings scheduled on condominium act

Albertans wishing to make comment on proposed amendments to The Condominium Property Act contained in Bill 55 may do so at hearings slated for September.

The proposed Act allows condominium corporations to change all their bylaws with a 75 percent majority vote of owners. It requires greater disclosure to the purchasers of condominium units by both developers and owners and provides new powers to condominium corporations, which will give them greater control over persons who are renting residential condominium units.

The Act also imposes obligations upon developers to maintain trust accounts for monies received from purchasers of condominium units, where construction of the unit is not complete.

It is sponsored in the Legislature by James Horsman, MLA for Medicine Hat Redcliff. The contents of the bill are based to a great extent on the 'Report of the Condominium Study Group' chaired by Ron Ghitler, MLA for Calgary Buffalo.

Graham L. Harle, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs will chair the meetings, scheduled to be held in Edmonton, September 22, 1977 at the Edmonton Plaza Hotel, Saskatchewan Room, and in Calgary, September 26, 1977 at the Calgary Inn, Mayfield Room. The meetings will be held from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Anyone planning to make a presentation is advised to contact the Minister's office to assure they are scheduled on the agenda and should also submit their comments in writing.

1900 acre annexation request for LAB

September 27 is the date set for another Local Authorities Board hearing into BACM's 1900 acre annexation proposal for northwest of St. Albert.

The hearing is set for the Club Mocombo on the St. Albert Trail.

Last week the developers annexation plan did not get past the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission.

The MD of Sturgeon and St. Albert are expected to oppose the annexation proposal at the meeting September 27.

The basis of the objections from the two bodies are said to relate to non-conformity with the St. Albert General Plan, the MD of Sturgeon General Plan, and "transportation difficulties."

An ERPC staff report says that agreement has not been reached between Alberta Transportation, St. Albert and Edmonton on the provision of "regional transportation services adequate to service this proposal in addition to lands already committed to residential development within St. Albert."

$30 Million complex approved

Abacus Cities Bellerose Park South project, a $30 million development which includes a regional shopping centre and apartment complex, was passed by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission last week.

This means that extensive ground work could be done on the shopping centre site before winter. The site covers a total of 63.4 acres bordering the north bank of the Sturgeon River up to Bellerose Drive. The whole site is east of Highway 2.

More than 200 apartment units are slated on about 11 acres of the site while the regional shopping centre will take up 37 acres.

The Sturgeon Valley Parkway will run along the south part of the site taking about 15 acres.

The project was passed speedily through ERPC, with St. Albert Mayor Dick Plain admitting that speedy action was needed.

The final vote on the proposal was made after Mayor Plain agreed to make all road widths to civic standards (about 50 feet) and accept the ERPC staff recommendations.

These include ERPC recommendations of the outline plan, Alberta Transportation approval of the two access points to the apartment site, and that the concerns of Alberta Environment regarding the recontouring of the valley banks be satisfied.

Official Suicide

by JIM SMITH

Someday, somehow, the technicians of this world will devise a marvellous machine which will be so important that the rest of the world will be utterly unable to function without that machine.

The machine will be so efficiently designed that it will require only one human operator. Moreover, the operator will require absolutely no skills; any one of the billions of humans will be able to master the machine within a matter of seconds.

Then the politicians will get into the act, granting the operator the right to strike. The unions will insist on — and get — exclusive operating rights for that one individual. So, if the operator isn't happy with his working conditions, the entire world will grind to a halt.

Crazy? Of course. Impossible? Not at all, in fact, something similar has happened to our public services in the past decade. The air traffic controllers grounded the entire country — including hundreds of thousands of travellers and fantastic amounts of business mail. Even that is of little importance compared to what the inside postal workers are planning for Christmas.

There's incipient idiocy in our labour laws. Any block of workers, given responsibility for a function with enough economic or safety importance, can cripple the nation. In return for sacrificing a couple of weeks' pay, the postal workers can bring the economy to its knees.

This isn't to say that the workers' case is unjustified. However, there are options for seeing justice done — options which do not cost the workers lost wages or the economy lost opportunities. The most popular of the alternative suggestions has long been some form of arbitration with settlements related to private sector wage hikes.

For several years, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, armed with a poll showing support by more than 90 per cent of its membership, has been urging the government to outlaw strikes in essential public services. The Federation believes that some form of arbitration is far more practical for all concerned. There is, in fact, justification for the belief that much of our labour strife exists because there is an institutional basis — the excessive power of public sector unions — for it to exist.

Unfortunately, the federal government has failed to recognize the common sense of eliminating essential service strikes. Labour Minister John Munro is on record as opposing removal of strike rights. The government may be in tune with the labour movement — but it doesn't appreciate the feelings of the vast majority of Canadians who are innocent victims in any disputes.

Surely the government has better things to do than to officially sanction Canada's economic suicide.

MLA's performance blasted

Your "Gazette Reflects" of August 31 must surely be the last straw to many residents of St. Albert. Your outrageous large type attack on the mayor is out of order. Maybe he has done many things to displease you but he was elected as mayor of this city by the citizens and he will answer to us on election day.

The constant petty bickering of both of you in public is a spectacle which has made you the laughing stock of the town. Can you really believe that this childish behaviour is to the benefit of your constituents?

How about spending some of this surplus time and energy in solving the problems of St. Albert instead of creating more. After all your own record can be criticized just as easily as that of the mayor.

You could be criticized for your lack of solutions to our transportation problems which are the worst in the province. Your party promised open government and to control the cost and size of government and have done the opposite.

Taxes have increased dramatically, disguised as an increase in the price of oil so it shows up on our utility bills and at the gas pump instead of an honest tax notice.

The Heritage Trust Fund about which we are told nothing and can only assume is an over collection of taxes now so that the government can afford to put all our children on welfare when our oil is gone.

I could take half a page on your performance or lack thereof. Perhaps you will consider doing your own job and let the mayor do his. I do have one more suggestion, let's raise the salaries of our mayor and MLA to $36,000 so we can attract some responsible representation.

JACK HUDSON,
Grandin Park.

Agrees with Gazette

I would like to take this time out to let you know that I agree with you in your write ups "Mayor upset with Gazette editorial." It is about time that he stops acting like a baby and does the job he was elected to do — that is, to run the city of St. Albert and not the Gazette.

Hasn't anyone told him it's about time he doesn't need his diaper changed anymore. There are quite a few things that are much more important to discuss with council than worrying what one individual has to say about him.

Because I say if he did his job the way it should be done he would not have to defend himself as his work would then prove it to all of us.

Personally I'm sick and tired of hearing it on T.V. and reading it in other news media. He certainly hasn't stopped crying yet and if that is the case we might as well get someone who can shoulder the job and go about business the way it should be.

Mrs. Dianne DePont
Grandin Park.

Premier will sue CBC on tar sands showing

Alberta Premier Peter Lougheed is hopping mad about a CBC program "Tar Sands" Monday night, which he felt ridiculed the Office of Premier and was "an unfair attack upon my character and reputation."

He threatens to take legal action in the courts against CBC.

Edmonton solicitors Ross McLennan hired this week by the Premier, in anticipation that the tar sands program would be shown, and with the warning that action for defamation of the Premier would be taken, if the program was aired on the CBC network. As everyone knows, the program was screened Monday night.

Tuesday, Mr. Lougheed made a lengthy statement defending his position as Premier in the Syncrude negotiations.

The entire impression created by the program surrounding the negotiations between the Government and the participants in Syncrude bore no relationship in either the substance or the atmosphere to what in fact really transpired.

I know because I was a participant. As far as I know, the producers did not talk to any of the principal participants.

Surely it is unjust and unfair for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to be able to portray a person active in public life, by name, through using a professional actor to characterize him in a degrading manner and by putting words into the actor's mouth which were never close to the actual circumstances.

The injustice and unfairness is compounded when it is connected with an important event upon which the person's reputation for competency and capacity is in part based. This is what the CBC program "Tar Sands" has done!

It clearly intended to leave the message that the people of Alberta were let down by their Premier in protecting the peoples' interests in establishing the commercial terms between the Provincial Government and the Syncrude participants for the plant. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The public evidence confirms that such is not the case. I am proud of the way in which I led and concluded the Syn-crude negotiations. It was a fair agreement for all parties, but it was particularly favourable for the people of Alberta for the reasons I outlined to the Legislature in full detail in the fall of 1973 and during the last provincial election.

We insisted on receiving a minimum 50 percent of the net profits for the people and that is the key term of the final arrangements.

EXPECTS CRITICISM, PUBLIC DEBATE

I expect, as part of my job, legitimate criticism and public debate. I welcome it, but surely, an attack by characterization is not legitimate. Surely, being portrayed by a professional actor in a manner which ridicules my performance and also the Office of Premier of Alberta and leaves the clear impression that the trust the people had in me was betrayed, is beyond the limits of legitimate criticism of a public person.

Such a program is outrageous and immoral. My only remedy is to seek legal redress in the courts. My solicitor sent a message to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation yesterday cautioning them of the apparently defamatory nature of such a program. I have instructed my solicitor to commence an action in my personal name for damages to my character and reputation.

If the CBC is allowed to get away without a fight with this approach of characterization of real people involved in public events in the guise of drama to suit the CBC's interpretation of such events then, they no doubt, will not hesitate to use this vehicle to escalate their distortions of public affairs and in so doing, to destroy or damage reputations.

A letter from the Edmonton solicitors to the CBC this week says it would be scandalous for the CBC to publish, with an actor in the role of Premier, a pseudo-fictionalized account of events surrounding the Syncrude project.

The letter goes on to say that if the program depicts the Premier as having improperly, imprudently or incompetently administered his office and trust in connection with the Syncrude negotiations, the firm will promptly recommend the commencement of an action for defamation.

The Premier had initially objected to the program being shown on the grounds that "it would be completely unacceptable for the CBC to publish an inaccurate account of the events surrounding the Syncrude project with actors purporting to portray the actual people involved."

STUDENT-GUIDED COLLEGE OFFERS ATOM BOMB COURSE

[AP] - From the folks who introduced a course in marijuana growing at the University of Connecticut's student-run Experimental College comes a new class - How to Build an Atomic Bomb.

The course is being offered this fall "to draw attention to the dangers of nuclear power," says the college's handbook.

The description adds that the course won't try to build an actual atomic bomb, nor will it try to get nuclear material.

Anthony Esposito, a staff member at Experimental College, said the course would involve only public information such as may be found in technical journals.

He said the course is planned to determine if a group of intelligent people can produce a crude atom bomb.

The college said that by demonstrating "the comparative ease with which an atomic bomb can be made, the collective hopes to demonstrate that the danger of atomic terrorism is real and even probable if the spread of nuclear power plants is not stopped."

The college's marijuana growing class stirred controversy this summer, but was permitted to proceed when officials determined that participants would not be breaking any laws.

College officials said no marijuana would be present in the classroom.

The Experimental College, which supports itself with student fees, uses university building space but is not under direct control of the university administration.

STAR WARS 41 TIMES, COUNTING

From Associated Press

"I get really nervous when I haven't seen it for three days," Bonita Frank said.

Her dog? No. Her pastor? No. A cherished skateboard? No.

Star Wars, that's what.

She and friend Linda Whitten, 29, say they've seen the smash-hit, science-fiction film 41 times.

"We're addicted to the movie," says Bonita, 26. "It's kind of like Buck Rogers and Flash Gordon with a little bit of Errol Flynn thrown in It's become a way of life."

The Coronet Theatre here has sold about a half-million tickets since Star Wars opened May 25, said assistant manager George Lex. He added that more than half the customers have seen the film more than once.

BUREAUCRACY

From the Washington Monthly

The value of government research is constantly being demonstrated. For example, three chemists at the National Bureau of Standards recently completes an 18-month study to find what would remove graffiti from public buildings. The study found that liquid paint removers would do the job best. That astounding conclusion was followed by the world that the next best removers are well-known household and industrial cleaners.

From time to time word filters out from behind the Bamboo Curtain that confirms our suspicion that the enemy of us all is not capitalism or communism but bureaucracy. A recent Rueter report from Peking says that one Liu Kuei-Yang, a Chinese civil servant, complained in a letter to the People's Daily that during his last three months on the job he spent 32 days in meetings.

MAN BITES DOG

BLANKENBERGE, Belgium - A man was charged with assault after repeatedly biting a dog during a fight between two canines, police report.

The man stopped biting only when the injured dog's owner, a woman, hit him over the head with her handbag.

INDIANS HAIL ACCEPTANCE OF CREE PASSPORT

MONTREAL [CP] - An Ojibwa Indian carrying a home-made passport was processed through Canadian customs Wednesday night in what Indians heralded as a major step toward independence of the Cree nation.

Fred Plain, a southern Ontario Ojibwa on a flight from Sweden to Montreal, arrived at Mirabel airport to a ceremonial welcome from 50 chanting Indians.

"Three European countries - Denmark, Sweden and Finland - have accepted our declaration of independence," Plain told newsmen.

George Manuel, president of the World Council of Indigenous Peoples, who travelled with Plain to the council's second general assembly in Kirtuna, Sweden, said Swedish customs officers at first objected to the home-made passport. After lawyers for the council discussed the matter with officials, Plain was allowed to board his flight.

The passport is made of plain green cardboard, with Plain's photograph inside. It was issued by Grand Council Treaty No. 9 - an Ojibwa-Cree organization in Northern Ontario.

Plain also carried a valid Canadian passport, but refused to present it to Swedish customs officers.

The Ojibwa-Cree are fighting for recognition as an independent nation within Canada. Plain, 52, has been involved in fighting for native rights for 30 years.

He said he expects more native people will be making and using their own passports now that he has been accepted by three countries and Canadian customs and immigration officials.

PONOKA TAKES ACTION ON THEFT

The County of Ponoka, like other areas, has been the victim in recent years of heavy insurance losses due to increased vandalism, theft, fire and liability claims. This has not only increased insurance rates but also has increased deductible limits by a large amount. In addition, replacement costs have soared with inflation. These factors have resulted in many insurance companies refusing to insure school property.

To prevent further problems, the County has taken action. To prevent further loss from break-ins and theft, the county is requiring schools to bank funds on a daily basis so that there is no money left on school premises after school hours. The elimination of cash in schools will be aided by bank night deposit services and mailing deposits.

Schools are taking inventories of equipment and are listing serial numbers to allow the easier identification of stolen articles.

school board.

"It is essential," said Mr. Hodgins "that the school board be ahead of - and not behind - certain situations in their planning, so that trustees can be more effective. They must be able to act, rather than merely react to needs that will predictably arise. I have seen situations where the Board is doing things after the fact," he added.

He sees a need for better communication between the electorate and the school board, in order that the board may better serve the needs and concerns of its supporters. In this connection he intends to promote and encourage participation by the public. He believes that positive steps should be taken, not only to hold an annual ratepayers meeting (now not a requirement, but rather left to the board's discretion), but to actively and properly promote annual meetings. He thinks more can be done to stimulate interest in school board affairs and attract greater public participation.

"Better communication between the people in the Protestant school district and the Board is needed," said Mr. Hodgins. "This is essential in order for the board to better serve the needs and concerns of its supporters."

Mr. Hodgins is an advocate of constructive debate to ensure all viewpoints are advanced on major school board issues.

In conclusion Mr. Hodgins expressed his view that the voters in our community have a right to expect strong leadership from their school boards.

Mr. Hodgins has served as vice-president and director of the St. Albert Curling Club. He is a past president and presently a director of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce. He is a director of the St. Albert P.C.

Association, and has served on various church committees for St. Albert United Church. Mr. Hodgins has also coached both minor hockey and softball.

Newcomers in action again

For the 12th successive year, newcomers to St. Albert can find friendship and fun through a non-profit group sponsored by the Welcome Wagon. The Newcomers Club met Tuesday, September 6 for the first meeting of the 1977-78 season.

If you're new to the area and would like to become involved in the community, or more simply, would like to make a friend, please attend the club's next dinner meeting on Tuesday, October 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Hall. A small fee will be charged, which covers a delicious dinner and the evening's entertainment.

The club has many special interest groups including afternoon bowling, arts and crafts, penny poker, bridge and many others. Anyone wishing to participate in these activities must be a member of the Newcomers Club.

Anyone wishing to attend the next dinner meeting can make a reservation by calling

School District No. 3 Briefs

Board member Anne Smith has been designated as the Board's representative on the Joint Policy committee for film regionalization. First meeting is October 4.

Achievement tests will be written by grade 12 students in three subjects in 1978. They will be: Math 30 (Jan. 11), Physics 30 and 30X (Jan. 12) and English 30 and 33 (June 6).

An agreement was signed which gave the Bertha Kennedy Nursery School access to the lunch room study area Monday through Thursday mornings. One month's notice is required for termination of the agreement, which covers this year only. Any extension will require a new agreement.

A Joint Use Agreement with the city was approved in principle and sent to administration for proper wording after which it will be brought once more before the Board for approval.

The V. J. Maloney lunch policy was sent back for parental approval when Board members decided a section stating the children could go downtown at lunch would not be well received by most parents.

Mayor hopes for general plan publicity

Mayor Dick Plain said last week he hopes for approval of St. Albert's General Plan by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission and its metro committee "will be in all the local newspapers."

Second and third readings of the general plan have also been given by St. Albert council, so, as Mayor Plain says, "It is a fait accompli."

The plan is almost a fait accompli; it still has to be approved by the Provincial Planning Board.

Mayor Plain refers to the St. Albert General Plan as a "key decision" in planning terms, which has made Edmonton "back off" on any annexation ambitions over St. Albert.

The mayor calls the completion and approval of the General Plan a satisfying moment, particularly since he refers to Edmonton as admitting that St. Albert "has a solid argument."

Mayor Plain concluded: "If ever there was a time to come out with a General Plan, this was the time."

Registration for CGIT is September 20

Leaders and "old" executive of the Canadian Girls in Training have met to discuss getting CGIT started again in St. Albert.

Registration will be Tuesday, September 20 at 7:15 in the United Church basement. Registration fee is $3.00. A scavenger hunt will be held and hot chocolate and donuts will be served.

On September 27 there will be an opportunity to meet the new United Church assistant minister, Rev. Bob Aldrich. This will be followed by some intensive planning and scheduling of our program.

CGIT has a four fold purpose: To cherish health; seek truth; know God and to serve others. The girls from last year's executive committee have suggested several activities including the Christmas Vesper Service; a weekend exchange with an out of town CGIT group; a camp night; a "Cake Walk"; more crafts and helping others. It all sounds interesting and fun. Come and give your ideas to make this year a memorable one.

This is our second year in operation and we are looking forward to old members returning and new members joining.

CGIT is for girls 12 - 17 years old, regardless of church affiliation. It is small group oriented with emphasis on involvement, decision making, caring, sharing and inspiration combined with fun, food and singing.

The superintendent is Mrs. Diana Ward, phone 458-2577, and the leaders are Mrs. Cheryl Ford, phone 458-1644 and Mrs. Dianne Cardin, phone 458-3057. Contact anyone of us for further information.

Mentally handicapped association may form

Community Services

There will be a meeting of all those interested in forming a St. Albert Association for the Mentally Handicapped in Lacombe Clubhouse, 135 Larose Drive on Monday, September 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The formation of a local association was discussed at several meetings held in the spring and an interim executive was appointed. Members of the executive met and now have a constitution ready for presentation, discussion and approval.

Please attend. This is an important meeting which could open up many doors for the mentally and developmentally handicapped in our community.

If interested and unable to attend phone Bill Collins at 458-0785 or Duncan Taylor at 459-4354.

Theatre at Grandin Mall Saturday

Community Services

On Saturday, September 17, shoppers in Grandin Shoppers' Park will have a chance to see what theatre is all about.

At 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. students from advanced classes in drama at the University will demonstrate what happens before a production goes on stage and then, to illustrate the results, will give improvisations based on suggestions from the audience.

A course in Theatre Awareness is included in the St. Albert Recreation program brochure. An exciting course which, if you're a theatre-goer, will help increase your enjoyment and, if you're not, is bound to widen your horizons. The "dramatic collage" being presented on Saturday will be a pre-view.

By now everyone should have received the brochure giving information about courses being offered by the Community Services Department and the St. Albert and Sturgeon Further Education Council. There were changes and additions to the program after the brochure went to the printers and these are listed in a separate advertisement in this issue. Note that Ladies Keep Fit and the Monday Keep Fit class for Moms and Tots are being held twice a week for one hour instead of once a week for two hours. There have also been changes in the instructor in a few cases. However, these have not been noted.

EDUCATION COMMENT

Theatre lab course offered

This fall Grant MacEwan Community College is offering a new general interest course in the dramatic arts area. Theatre Lab is a series of 10 classes designed to enrich performance quality and to explore the essential actor in everyone. The instructor, Colleen Van Rikvoord, will use a unique approach encompassing traditional and modern techniques concentrating on broadening the acting base of either the professional or the amateur performer.

During the course, each student will have the opportunity to prepare at least three scenes of his or her own choosing. Each scene will present a different challenge to the participant. The guidelines for scene selection will include one scene with which the performer feels great identity; one scene with which the performer feels no rapport or understanding; and a third scene which is typical of a particular period or style.

Ms. Van Rikvoord's approach to teaching emphasizes the enjoyable, satisfying and fun side of the work that is necessary to improve the acting techniques of the performer.

The Theatre Lab will run on 10 Thursdays from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. beginning on September 29. It will be held at the Assumption Campus of Grant MacEwan College, 10766 - 97 Street and the course fee will be $25.00. For further information, please contact the Continuing Education Division of Grant MacEwan Community College at 462 - 2680.

Achievement tests written this year

The Achievement Test Advisory Committee has recommended to the Hon. Julian Koziak, Minister of Education, that achievement tests be administered during the coming school year. This committee has representation from the Alberta Teachers' Association, Alberta School Trustees' Association, Conference of Alberta School Superintendents and Alberta Education.

As a result of this recommendation achievement tests will be written by Grade x11 students according to the following schedule:

On January 11, 1978, a Mathematics test will be written by Mathematics 30 students completing the program at the end of January.

On January 12, 1978, a Physics test will be written by Physics 30 and 30X students completing either program at the end of January.

Finally, on June 6, 1978, an English test will be written by English 30 and English 33 students completing either program at the end of the school year. This test will have two sections of both multiple choice and written expression requiring two administration times during that day.

Results for Mathematics and Physics will be returned prior to the end of the January semester. Teachers may use part of the mark achieved by a student in determining the final score. Because of the additional marking required for the written portion of the English test, results may not be available until July.

Education ministers to meet in Edmonton

Education Minister Julian Koziak and Advanced Education and Manpower Minister Bert Hohol announced that the Honourable Ben Hanuschak, minister of continuing education and manpower for Manitoba and chairman of the council of ministers of education of Canada has accepted, on behalf of the council, an invitation that Alberta host the annual meeting of the council in Edmonton September 25 to 27.

The annual meeting will take place at Government House on Monday, September 26 and is expected to conclude by or after noon, Tuesday, September 27.

Please send "Ruby" into outer space

By Jim McIntyre

The tormented soul that screamed of "Get a face-lift, bitch," and Go to Hell, Jolly Green Giant!" during the first screening of the latest "Exorcist" take-off "Ruby" summed up the sheer banality of this movie better than any reviewer could.

But it falls to the lot of the reviewer to sometimes ensure the unendurable and this was the case at the Capital Square in Edmonton last Friday night.

First of all, someone should tell producers to give up trying on the "Exorcist" theme and can it for ever "Ruby" is not about an exorcism, but its violence and crudity spiced with a watered down dose of the "supernatural" place it in the category of a film which a drunken monkey let loose on a set could probably have turned out just as well as producer George Edwards.

The film is an insult to the intelligence and must be the biggest rip-off of the movie-goer's dollar since the movie industry began.

I never had the misfortune to see Piper Laurie, who starred in that other bone shaker "Carrie" and so can't make a comparison between Ms. Laurie in that show and the Piper who plays Ruby Claire, the lead "performer" in this latest Exorcist genre show.

The plot is as banal and tedious as the action of this travesty.

Ruby, a failed singer, witnesses the murder of a boyfriend/husband, (you're never quite sure which) at the hands of some hoodlums and at that point her baby daughter is born. She later fleshes out into a deaf mute and later tries her legs and hands at some Linda Blair type gyrations as the supernatural tries to reach Ruby in a love affair across the grave.

Apparently, Ruby's boyfriend, murdered in 1935 does not forget his loss easily and the climax of the film sees Ruby locked in an embrace with a very flimsy skeleton, dragging her down into the depths of a Florida swamp. The skeleton is so sadly lacking in strength it looks as if Ruby is doing the dragging.

As the supernatural forces exert pressure in this macabre mess, we see Ruby's drive-in movie staff killed by strangulation with reams of film, and with the blood drained out of them, which makes for a deep red coke for one unfortunate drive-in movie fan.

And so this garbage churns on for about an hour and a half.

Garbage is garbage and that's where this show belongs, deep in a garbage can, preferably in the outer reaches of the solar system.

Chuck Eisenman has all the help he needs when it comes to desk work, the Littlest Hobos are always pleased to help out. The Littlest Hobos will be appearing all the rest of this week at Northgate Mall. (Please see advertisement in this issue for times). The Hobos are very famous, and represent more than just an animal act. Their understanding and intelligence will astound you, and delight the kids.

Playwrights unit holds first three workshops

The Northern Light Theatre Playwrights Unit, another of the company's new features this season, will give workshop productions to eight new scripts primarily by Albertan playwrights.

While Northern Light's lunch-hour mainstage continues to take advantage of fine new Canadian writing, the Playwrights Unit furthering its commitment to the development of new plays and playwrights. After a week of intense script work involving the playwright and a professional director and cast, each workshop will culminate in Sunday and Monday evening readings for the theatrical and media communities and the general public.

This season's workshop will focus on four one-act and four full-length plays. Three full-length works by Edmonton playwrights have already been chosen: Descendants by Gordon Pengilly, The Calling of Eggman Frye by Gerald Reid, and Stage Falls by Frank Moher.

Descendants, a drama by University of Alberta M.F.A. Playwriting graduate Gordon Pengilly is a powerful study of dissension within a Mormon community in Southern Alberta. It will be workshoped in preparation for its full-scale staging at the University.

The Calling of Eggman Frye is a musical play by Gerald Reid, a reverie of passionate lyricism in which a man is for a single moment washed-over by his part.

Stage Falls by Frank Moher is a comedy set in Edmonton's Pantages Theatre in 1921. Subtitled "A backstage romance," it concerns a 25 year affair that proves to have been just so much showbiz.

Scripts for the remainder of the workshop program are under consideration, and titles will be announced as the season continues.

Northern Light announces 1977-78 season

Northern Light Theatre's eight play season for 1977-78 features its most popular traditions and leads the company in a number of new directions as well.

The playbill ranges from the musical collage form, first made popular in Edmonton by Northern Light to the best of contemporary Canadian and international one-act plays. The theatre will continue its schedule of weekday lunch-hour plus Saturday evening performances in the downtown Edmonton Art Gallery Theatre.

A cast of eight musicians and actors opens the season on September 29 with Ten Lost Years (Sept. 29 - Nov.

21), an original musical collage based on the best-selling book by Canadian journalist Barry Broadfoot. This is a stirring collection of the fiery, wry and touching memories of Canadians who survived the Great Depression, spiced with the rousing music of the decade. Ten Lost Years will tour Northern Alberta and British Columbia following its Edmonton premiere.

In October, Northern Light joins forces with Edmonton Actors' Workshop when it hosts that company's production of a contemporary one-act (Oct. 27 - Nov. 19). E.A.W. Artistic Director Martin Fishman will select a play from the best of the world theatre's new writing, and a title will be announced shortly.

Northern Light should be on everyone's Christmas list when it presents Doctor Doolittle (Nov. 30 - Dec. 30), a brand new musical version of Hugh Lofting's wonderful children's classic, adapted by Edmonton playwright Frank Moher with music by Edmonton composer Lawrence W. Reese. This charming holiday treat from the folks who last season brought you Winnie-The-Pooh features the Great and Wise Doctor who speaks 499 animal tongues.

First up in the new year is The First Night of Pygmalion (Jan. - Feb.). This stylishly outlandish comedy by Richard Huggitt finds the improbable Sir Beerbohm Tree, The indomitable Mrs. Patrick Campbell, and the irreverent Bernard Shaw at work and each other's necks in rehearsal for that very first production of Pygmalion. The First Night of Pygmalion is staged in conjunction with The Citadel Theatre's production of Pygmalion, and the two theatres will also collaborate on a special noon-hour presentation of readings from Shaw.

The African Plays (Feb. - March) is a School Production intended as an elementary-grade introduction to the joys of play-making. Like the myths and folk-tales of all cultures, these are the work of countless imaginations, passed on in theatrical high-style by famed drama educator Carol Korty.

One of Canada's most important and entertaining new playwrights is featured when Waiting for the Parade marches into the early Spring slot (March - April). Calgary's John Murrell has fashioned a searching and amusing gallery of five women left on the homefront during WW11. The emotions that play the "Faces of Women at War" are delicately traced through their daily lives as they wage certain battles of their own.

The work of the City's Drama and English teachers will be complemented by a production of selected scenes from Shakespeare (April - May). As a bird's-eye-view of Shakespeare's work and life, this is an ideal production for students - and Students of Life.

A number of plays are under consideration for production in the season's final slot (May - June), including The Apollo of Bellac, Jean Giraudoux's fantasia regarding the use and abuse of flattery, Sexual Perversity in Chicago by David Mamet, an excruciatingly funny modern morality play and one of the most important one-acts of the 70's, Side by Side by Stephen Sondheim, and a Sherlock Holmes Mystery, the particulars of which must remain undercover.

This mainstage lunch hour session, along with the complementary activities of the newly-established Playwrights Unit, promise Edmontonians another fine course of entertainment at a carte.

"Ten Lost Years" opens September 29

Artistic Director Scott Swan has gathered an outstanding cast for Northern Light Theatre's opening production of the fourth season, Ten Lost Years. This original musical collage based on the bestselling book by Canadian journalist Barry Broadfoot runs September 29 through October 21 in the Edmonton Art Gallery Theatre, before heading out on the road for a two week tour of Northern Alberta and British Columbia.

Ten Lost Years is a stirring collection of the fiery, wry and touching memories of Canadians who survived the Great Depression, spiced with the rousing music of the decade. Barry Broadfoot crisscrossed the nation gathering these reminiscences, and each one becomes as brilliant and captivating as a magic-lantern slide in this exquisite theatre-piece.

Four of Canada's finest young actors join four of Canada's top veterans to provide both a 30's and a 70's perspective on that lost decade. In the cast are Margaret Barton, Michael Ray Cunningham, Angela Gann, Marilyn Gann, Mickey Macdonald, Wally McSweeney, Chick Roberts and Donal Stephens. Direction is by Scott Swan, with musical direction by Angela Gann and design by Lee Livingstone.

Ten Lost Years has been compiled so that it may be enjoyed in either one-act or full-length form. Patrons are asked to note the special performance schedule for this very special event:

Tuesday, 12:10 p.m. - Part 1 (The Farm); Wednesday, 12:10 p.m. - Part 11 (The City and The Jungle); Thursday, 12:10 p.m. - Part 1 - 1:10 p.m. - Part 11; Friday, 12:10 p.m. - Part 1 - 1:10 p.m. - Part 11; Saturday, 7:30 p.m. - Parts 7 and 11.

Tickets for the Edmonton run are now on sale at all Bay Ticket Outlets (424-0121) or the Northern Light Theatre Office (10189 99 Street, 429-3110). They will also be available at the door.

Soon Edmonton artist opens show

A one-man show by Edmonton artist, Hendrik Bres, opened at the Gallery on September 3.

Mr. Bres is best known to Edmonton audiences for the abstract paintings that he has exhibited extensively over the past several years. More recently, he has also been intensely involved with representing landscape. In the landscapes, atmosphere and the physical qualities of a scene are depicted with energetic drawing. Through the limited use of subtle colour, he achieves a wide range of moods by thickly accreting oil pastels on paper. These moody gestural drawings are remote from specific landscape locations and relate more to his abstract paintings.

New books for fall at the St. Albert library

By Margrit McCreath
Building with Wood by John I. Rempel. Rempel's fascinating history of the many methods of building in Upper Canada during the pioneering years investigates every aspect of building.

with emphasis on construction techniques. An important source of architectural and historical information, the account is profusely illustrated with over 200 photographs and drawings. Collection. Use and Care of Historical Photographs by Robert A. Weinstein and Larry Booth. Old photographs offer the past to us in a way that words cannot, and yet old photographs are by far the more perishable resource. Here is a guide for the growing number of collectors, archivists, librarians, curators, and historians who work with historical photographs.

The Devil's Music: A History of the Blues by Giles Oakley. This book gives a background to the rise and development of the blues both in relation to other forms of black music and in the context of American social history as experienced by Black Americans.

Gliding by Derek Piggott. Since its publication in 1958, Gliding has been adopted all over the world as the standard text book on learning to glide. Now in its fourth edition, it covers all the important aspects of gliding from the first flight to advanced cross-country techniques.

Grassy Narrows: The Tragic Story of Mercury Pollution by George Hutchison and Dick Wallace. Two journalists sound the alarm in this moving story of the economic, social and physical damage inflicted upon the native peoples of Grassy Narrows in Northern Ontario.

A History of Victoria by Harry Gregson. For a relatively young city, Victoria has a surprisingly rich and varied history. Founded officially by James Douglas as a Hudson's Bay Company fort in 1843, it became an international trading post, an important port, a flamboyant gold rush town, a quiet and relatively sober outpost of Empire and a centre of government, all in less than a century.

How to Analyze Your Handwriting by Manfred Lowengard. Handwriting can reveal a great deal about the writer's character -- far more than meets the eye. In this book a professional graphologist explains the fundamental rules of handwriting analysis, plus a method for producing a really detailed character analysis.

Newfoundland Portfolio by Ben Hansen. This book contains 16 pages of full colour and 86 pages of black and white photographs of Canada's most rugged and beautiful island -- Newfoundland.

The community makes music

On Wednesday, September 14 at 8 p.m. we will see and hear a band called the Rusty Nail. These people are fine musicians and members of the Panich Music School Faculty, St. Albert's own music school.

They include Laverne and Bob Panich, Paul Gonzola, and Brian Sorge. This is a smooth middle of the road band which plays both rock and music for listening. Tune in to Channel Five at 8 o'clock Wednesday, September 13.

On September 21 an organ and piano duo will appear. Mrs. Frances Schuchard will be joined by her sister Mrs. Carol Snider. Mrs. Snider has been visiting here from Oregon. She is a professional soloist and accompanist, and besides her playing experience has taught piano, organ and accordion as well as music in schools. Her background includes study with the Conservatory of London, St. Mary's Academy, in The Dalles Oregon and Southern Oregon College at Ashland, Oregon.

Mrs. Schuchard and Mrs. Snider performed as a duo in the States before Mrs. Schuchard left for Canada.

We recorded for this program in the home of Kenneth Hoyts using a Baldwin Piano and Thomas organ. Recordings are usually done at the studio of Channel Five on Monday or Tuesday evening. If anyone would like to participate as a soloist or a group, please call Harriet Moore 459-2702 or Gudrin Bublitz at 458-3524.

Art critic gives lecture

Mr. Clement Greenberg, the most influential and controversial art critic and writer of our time, will give a lecture at the Edmonton Art Gallery on Wednesday, September 28 at 8 p.m. in the Gallery Auditorium. Mr. Greenberg will speak on "The Present State of Art" and will answer questions from the audience following his talk.

Mr. Greenberg is an important figure in art circles. His opinions about the art of this century are taken into account by all serious members of the art public, even his strongest detractors. His reputation is based on his support of American abstract painting since the early 1940's. He has been a friend and supporter of Jackson Pollock, Willem de Kooning, Franz Kline, Helen Frankenthaler, Morris Louis, Kenneth Noland and Jules Olitski. But his support hasn't been restricted to American art. He has travelled extensively, seeing art and meeting artists, scholars and collectors all over the world. He has championed the art of many non-Americans, notably the sculpture of British artists, Anthony Caro and Tim Scott, and the painting of the late Jack Bush of Canada.

This will be Mr. Greenberg's third visit to Edmonton - his last was in 1973. He has visited western Canada several times and is an admirer and supporter of both abstract painting and landscape painting from this area.

In the developing countries of the world, 60% of the children are dead before they are five years old from diseases such as dysentery, cholera and infantile gastritis caused by drinking and washing in filthy water. By helping to provide safe, clean water through their contributions to UNICEF, Canadians have shown in a very deep sense their care and concern for the well-being of these children and their families.

Quilted hangings displayed at library

By Margrit McCreath
On display at the St. Albert Public Library for the month of September is a display of beautiful quilted hangings by Barbara Kelcey. Barbara was born in London, England and has lived in Winnipeg, Ottawa, Yellowknife and more recently, St. Albert. She is married and has two sons. This talented artisan has been quilting for four and a half years, but she has been sewing and doing needlework since she was very young. Barbara designs most of her own work, and thoroughly enjoys designing pieced scrap quilts. Her quilted wall hanging called Maple Sugar was on display at the Provincial Museum in Edmonton. Barbara was also involved with the demonstrations at the Museum for the exhibition of patchwork, appliqued quilts and contemporary wallhangings from quilters throughout Alberta. She has won prizes for quilting in Ottawa and at the Pre-Confederation Furniture's Quilt Block Contest. Barbara's quilted works are available at Calico Country Store in Edmonton.

Be sure to come to the Public Library and enjoy the creative works of this fine quilter, Barbara Kelcey.

YWCA energy workshop offered

National statistics have reported that the Canadians are the largest per capita users and wasters of energy in the world. We squander half of the energy we use - in the home, in industry, government and business.

Like the weather, everybody talks about energy, but very few do anything about it. For homeowners, industrialists and businessmen concerned about the depletion of energy resources, the waste of present energy and present costs of energy consumption, the YMCA offers an opportunity to do something practical about it. A two-day seminar will be conducted at the YWCA on 100th Avenue and 103 Street on Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18. Conducted by Michael Kerfoot, one of Alberta's most active and knowledgeable energy conservationists, the workshop will detail the consequences of the "energy crisis," and outline practical, here-and-now ways in which business and individuals can conserve our fast-depleting energy supplies.

From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day, participants in the workshop will discuss the meaning of the "energy crisis" and ways to cope with it.

Other subjects to be discussed will include methods in which individuals, industry and business can stop runaway heat right now and save on operating costs at the same time. All areas of energy consumption will be covered, from the savings of 21% on fuel consumption by drivers who reduce speeds from 70 to 55 miles per hour to the energy consumption of household appliances.

Persons wishing to register for this energy workshop or to obtain further information, may phone the YWCA at 423-9922 or call in at 10305 - 100 Avenue.

Seeking truth

The philosophic person recognizes that if a thing is true you must accept it no matter how incredible or unpalatable it may be. No real values are destroyed or impaired by learning the truth about them. The falsities and prejudices of the world are allergic to truth and will die if sufficiently exposed to it.

In Sir Henry Rider Haggard's fantastic story She, truth was represented in the temple of Kor by a statue of a woman, leaning forward with poised wings. Her arms were outstretched like those of some woman about to embrace one she dearly loved. Her whole attitude was tenderly beseeching. Her face was thinly veiled. The inscription read: "Is there no man that will draw my veil and look upon my face, for it is very fair?"

And Sir Richard Livingstone, great scholar, set a high and shining prospect of truth in outlining the tasks of education in today's world: truth is "... that veracity which does its best to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; where it is uncertain, confesses to uncertainty; where it lacks knowledge, does not pretend to it; which is candid and frank, takes no unfair advantage in argument, is careful not to misrepresent an opponent or to ignore the strength of his case and the weakness of its own."

When a person makes this surrender to truth, he is for the first time in his life free - free from superstition, free from prejudice and free from dogmatism. He finds himself with a strange new power, the power to discover, handle and control facts. He can claim to be an educated man. He is ready to polish his mind against the minds of others in a poised way.

The one-armed stranger winced as the barber nicked him again. But the razor-wielder chattered on unnoticed. "Haven't you been here before?" he babbled. "No," said the stranger. "I lost this arm in a hunting accident."

Homegrown herbs add zest

Are herbs an important part of your vegetable garden?

Drying herbs can make these magic cooking aids useful year round. They not only can add life to your meals this winter but they also make practical and personalized gifts. Include a recipe or two using herbs when you give the dried spices to your friends.

HARVESTING HERBS FOR DRYING

Herbs can be used all summer long in the fresh stage but for drying they should be picked before the flower heads reach full maturity.

Rapid drying achieves better quality herbs. It is best to pinch the leaves from the stem at the base of each leaf. This may seem like more work but the stem is actually the only part that is necessary to be dried. The stalk part of large-leaved herbs has no appreciable amount of flavor.

Tying bunches of herbs together and hanging them to dry is a common practice. This means that the time consuming job of removing the stems is left for afterwards.

WINDOW SCREEN MAKES IDEAL DRYER

Small leaved herbs such as dill, thyme, and marjoram, dry much quicker so they may be left on the branches. Rapid drying will insure the best green colour in the final product. The herbs should be placed in a hot, dry, dark, well ventilated spot. A window screen is ideal to use for drying, as it is important for the air to circulate over and under the leaves.

When crisp as can be, from a few days to a week in very hot weather, they should be put into containers.

HERBS TO GROW

If you have never grown herbs you might like to plan to add them to your garden or flower bed next year!

Borage is easily grown from seed and has deep blue flowers that attract bees. It has a faint cucumber flavor which is used in drinks.

Basil is very spicy. It is used in a variety of dishes including fish, eggs, meat and tomato.

Chives give a mild onion flavor to salads, but are much more easily digested.

Dills are used in pickles, soups, salads, etc.

Fennel is a tall plant with yellow flowers and feathery foliage. It is used as a garnish for salads or in sauces with fish. The seeds have an aniseed-like taste.

Garlic clove sections can be planted in the spring. Garlic is used as a flavoring in numerous dishes.

Lavender can be grown in your herb garden too. It's dried leaves are used in sachets. Wouldn't you enjoy the smell of lavender from your garden all year round?

Mint, a very common herb, is used with peas and carrots, lamb, salads, fresh beverages etc. Sweet marjoram, a member of the mint family is also nice with lamb.

Parsley is used mainly in sauces, but also makes a lovely garnish for meat, fish and salads.

Sage, with its strong flavor is used in dressings, meat dishes and soups.

USING HERBS

Add herbs to stews, soups and sauces during the latter part of cooking. With salad dressings and juices add them as long before serving as possible for the best flavor.

How much do you use? A quarter teaspoon is approx. equal to a pinch and this should be enough for 4 servings. Taste to be sure, your preference may differ for specific herbs.

Terrarium gardening is attractive, satisfying

By Stella Langler

Terra means earth and arium means "home," so a terrarium is a home for earth and where there is fertile earth, plant life is possible. Any type of clearly transparent container can be used for a terrarium.

You'll need a container, drainage material, soil and plants.

First of all decide where the terrarium will be used. In the living room it should be more formal than in the den, kitchen or office. Good, indirect light with no direct sunlight is the rule. Do not use your terrarium near a heat outlet or on your television set.

DRAINAGE MATERIAL

The first layer of drainage material should be three-quarters of an inch to two inches of coarse sand and gravel, then about one cup horticultural charcoal. Next put down a thin layer of shredded sphagnum moss, just enough to keep the soil out of the drainage material. Now add three to four tablespoons of charcoal chips and then the soil.

Charcoal chips keep the soil from turning sour and act as a purifying agent.

SOIL MIXTURE

The soil should be comprised of 1/3 part good garden soil, not from a compost heap; 1/3 part sphagnum moss; and 1/3 perlite. If available a little leaf mold added to this mixture acts as an organic fertilizer. This is the basic mixture for all terrariums with exception of cactus. The soil mixture for cactus is 1/2 sand 1/4 sphagnum moss 1/4 good garden soil.

Sterilize everything that will be put into the terrarium with the exception of the plants, which should be put into a plastic bag with a vapon pest strip for at least 48 hours.

PLANTS

Now a home for the plants is ready. There are literally hundreds of plants that will do well in your terrarium but do not mix succulants with cactus. Cactus needs a home of its own.

CARE & MAINTENANCE

Check condensation inside a few days after planting. If droplets have formed at the top of your container, and just above the soil, then your moisture level is correct. If your container is completely covered with condensation, you should wipe out all condensation. A quick change in temperature will cause a terrarium to cloud up entirely.

Water lightly each month using three to four table-spoons. Use water that is at room temperature.

Macrame weekend workshop scheduled

The Cromdale Campus of Grant MacEwan Community College, 8020 - 118 Ave., will be the location of a macrame weekend workshop beginning Friday, September 23 and running to September 25.

During this weekend workshop, students will learn the knots and patterns of macrame and then will have the opportunity to work on a macrame project of their choice such as a plant hanger, purse, wall hanging, etc. Cord for practicing the knots will be supplied, but students will be expected to supply the material needed for their project.

The fee for the course is $17 and students can register at any campus of Grant MacEwan Community College. For more information, please contact the Continuing Education Division of Grant MacEwan Community College at 462-2680.

St. Albert council briefs

City council met in committee of the whole Monday night, in a meeting that lasted a mere hour and 15 minutes. In addition to lengthier items (see stories) councillors attended to the following matters:

A discussion was initiated by City Manager Bob Byron on the subject of campaign signs for the upcoming election. At present such signs may be placed on road allowances but not on public property such as in parks or at City Hall. An amendment to the signing bylaw may be forthcoming to formalize present policy.

Councillor Barry Breadner asked the city manager what was happening in regard to the North West Mounted Police Building. Mr. Byron answered that deterioration of the building was more extensive than expected and that the city had consulted the Historical Sites Board, who gave advice on restoration. He stated that a committee has been established to carry out the restoration, and that the city would be involved in the project in terms of manpower. Mr. Byron said that, in order to restore the building, the logs may have to be numbered, dismantled and re-assembled.

Councillor Rod Thronson asked a question of the city manager regarding the status of road building in the city, particularly Hebert Rd. and Sir Winston Churchill Avenue. Mr. Byron replied that if the weather continues to be favourable, the work will progress faster. He said the major work on Sir Winston Churchill has been undertaken, and that some of the new part will be travelled on while the old section is under construction. Regarding Hebert Road, there will be construction from Cunningham to Arlington. Work on Gervais Road has been delayed pending relocation of the transit terminal.

War museum seeks artifacts

The Canadian War Museum is looking for military artifacts to strengthen its collection. At this time, the museum especially wishes to acquire uniforms, weapons, medals, military books, insignia and photographs concerning the military history of North America from 1604 to the present.

Artifacts relating to the allied and enemy forces from the First and Second World Wars and from peace-keeping assignments are also of interest, as are common, everyday items used by Canadian military personnel in the war zones, in rest areas behind the lines and at home.

These will be used for display, future reference and research in the Canadian War Museum in Ottawa and other allied Canadian military museums. Anyone wishing to contact the museum in regard to this matter may write the Canadian War Museum, 330 Sussex Drive, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0M8.

St. Albert drive-in problems discussed

Following are some of the highlights from the regular meeting of St. Albert council September 6. Mayor Dick Plain was in the chair and all councillors except Myrna Fyle were present.

IT WAS MOVED that problems associated with the St. Albert Drive-In operation be referred to staff for a report.

Two St. Albert residents, Mr. L. Jubenville, 23 Goodridge Drive, and Mr. J. Caskenette, 58 Goodridge Drive, told council of their problems associated with the drive-in. These include the stacking of cars awaiting entrance to the theatre, the backlog of traffic created and litter problems before and after performances, as well as isolated instances of vandalism.

Mr. Jubenville suggested that alternative access be developed for patrons of the theatre, utilizing Gate Avenue and Garnet Drive.

He also suggested relocation of the present ticket office to a spot further back from the theatre gates to provide a further stacking area for cars.

COUNCIL CARRIED a recommendation from the administrative committee with regard to the establishment of ambulance rates.

These are (for inside St. Albert limits), $45 for an emergency call and if more than one patient is taken in the same ambulance, $35 per patient. A non-emergency (transfer call rate) of $45 was established, $1.00 a mile costs if the transfer is outside city limits.

An administration charge of $5 is included in the above fees.

Ambulance rates if the call is taken from outside city limits are $67.50 for an emergency, plus $1.00 per travelled mile. If more than one patient is transported the rate is $52.50.

A stand-by rate, only for inside St. Albert boundaries of $27 an hour was also established by council.

COUNCIL ALSO PASSED a motion that an expenditure of $3,000 be authorized for advertising in the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce brochure.

THE FIRE AGREEMENT WITH the MD of Sturgeon came up at council.

It was moved by council that St. Albert remain willing to discuss fire protection with the MD of Sturgeon on a "shared cost arrangement" to reflect the portion of services provided.

Council was told of how the fire service for the MD had come to an end, with the main reference to the liability position of St. Albert operating without an interim agreement. St. Albert has asked the MD to meet with the city once more to hammer out the conditions of a long term agreement.

BYLAW 28/77, St. Albert's General Plan bylaw was given third reading and it was moved by Alderman Barry Breadner that staff be commended for the efforts expended in the development and presentation of the General Plan.

The Metro Committee of the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission has approved the city's General Plan.

BYLAW 39/77, a bylaw to establish the St. Albert transportation system was given first reading, with the change that "seeing-eye" dogs for blind persons be allowed to use city buses.

THE TENDER for peak hour bus service for 1977-78 was awarded to Briggs Brothers in the amount of $17 per bus hour.

ON A MOTION from Alderman Rod Thordson, that portion of Hebert Road lying between NW and SW of 2-54-25-W4 was renamed to Boudreau Road.

AN APPLICATION by private landowners for what is known as the "Speedway" annexation at a point near 127 Street on the boundaries of Edmonton and the MD of Sturgeon is to be heard by the Local Authorities Board in Edmonton, October 18.

St. Albert will have someone in attendance at the hearing as a city waterline runs through the lands in question.

FOLLOWING A MOTION carried by council, a development application submitted by Shell Canada, regarding five acres of land fronting on Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Fairview Boulevard, will be considered by MPC at its next meeting.

A bylaw (32/77) is awaiting third reading from council and if it ever gets it, all of Lot A, Block 22, Plan 5267 RS will be rezoned from C-2 (neighbourhood commercial) to R-1C residential, except one acre which will stay C-2.

BYLAW 33/77 will be given third reading by council when a development agreement is ready for signing. Qualico has applied for rezoning of a commercial site on Alpine Boulevard and Akins Drive from C-2 to C-1 to permit uses other than C-2 (commercial).

COUNCIL PASSED BYLAWS 36/37/77 to delete requirements to issue coupon debentures for recreation facilities in a total amount of $1,892,902. The facilities being constructed are the city arena and a covered swimming pool, along with racquet sports facilities and tennis courts.

Airlines to discuss reduced fares for families & businessmen

All the major airlines of the world are meeting at the International Headquarters in Geneva to discuss a greatly reduced airbus fare on the Atlantic Sectors. There is talk of a $199, return fare, New York to London, New York. Some travel agents are not always up to date on their fare information and a potential traveller should shop by phone to get the best possible fare. Very often potential air travellers are discouraged from further enquiry by misinformation.

Because travel agents get a commission as payment from the Airlines involved many potential customers are under the impression that this costs them more by going through an agency. This is just not so. The fact is that the price is the same from a travel agent as from an airline.

What is not the same is the service. Travel Agents have to compete on a larger scale and thus a good agent will explore all avenues of fares. Some Travel Agents charge a Service Charge, a cancellation charge or a delivery charge. -- This is just not fair to the client. About the only legitimate charge would be if the agent was to expend money on the client's behalf and gave the client credit, then an interest charge would be in order. Helten Travel of St. Albert with a branch office in Edmonton offers a no-cost package to all potential travellers.

Parsonally Speaking

Pastor B. L. Heath
First Baptist Church
A famous unwritten letter:

Rev. Saul Paul,
Independent Missionary Corinth, Greece.

Dear Paul,

We recently received an application from you for service under our board. It is our policy to be as frank and open-minded as possible with all our applicants. We have made an exhaustive survey of your case. To be plain, we are surprised that you have been able to "Pass" as a bonafide missionary.

We are told that you are afflicted with severe eye-trouble. This is certain to be an insurmountable handicap to an effective ministry and our Board required 20-20 vision.

At Antioch, we learned you opposed Dr. Simon

Peter, an esteemed denominational secretary, and actually rebuked him publicly. You stirred up so much trouble at Antioch that a special Board meeting had to be convened in Jerusalem. We cannot condone such actions.

Do you think it seeming for a missionary to do part-time work? We hear that you are making tents on the side. In a letter to the church at Philippi you admitted that they were the only church supporting you. We wonder why.

Furthermore, you have not graduated from our seminary, and you know we cannot have our mission board represented by one who is not a graduate from a recognized university. We cannot recognize the three years you have spent in Arabia and Damascus because the schools are unknown. Our Board does not recognize private tutors such as you claim you have had.

Is it true you have a jail record? Certain brethren report that you did two years time at Caesarea and were imprisoned at Rome.

You made so much trouble for the businessmen at Ephesus that they refer to you as the "man who turned the world upside down." Sensationalism in missions is uncalled for. We also deplore the lurid "over the wall in a basket" episode at Damascus.

We are appalled at your obvious lack of conciliatory behaviour. Diplomatic men are not stoned and dragged out of the city gate, or assaulted by furious mobs. Have you ever suspected that gentler words might gain you more friends?

I enclosed a copy of Dlaus Carnegus book "How to Win Jews and Influence Greeks." In one of your letters you refer to yourself as "Paul the aged." Our mission policies do not envision a surplus of superannuated recipients.

It hurts me to tell you this, Brother Paul, but in all of my years I have never met a man so opposite to the requirements of our Foreign Board. If we accepted you, we would break every rule of modern missionary practice.

Most sincerely yours,
J. Flavious Fluffyhead
Secretary.

Victims of crime receive compensation

Alberta's Crimes Compensation Board has made awards to three Edmonton men who were victims of assaults.

Reginald P. Tierman was awarded continuing monthly payments of $520 plus $27 for expenses and lost earnings. In five previous decisions the Board awarded Tierman a total of $13,582 for living expenses, guide dog, glasses, prescription drugs, medical reports and legal fees.

Tierman, 44 at the time, was assaulted during an altercation in a Caroline motel on April 3, 1973. His left eye was ruptured, and because the right eye was only able to distinguish light, he was left virtually sightless. Clayton Donald Taylor was convicted of assault and given a two-year suspended sentence. The Board will review the application in 12 months.

Frank R. Taylor was awarded monthly payments of $450 for 12 months. In four previous decisions the Board awarded him a total of $15,872 for expenses, family support, medical reports, legal fees, prescription drugs and lost earnings.

Taylor, then 50, was attacked and robbed on February 28, 1973 after cashing a cheque at the Saxony Hotel. His most serious injury was frostbite to both hands, as he was left unconscious. He is still unemployable. His assailant has not been traced.

Filemone F. Mare, 42, was awarded $601 for lost earnings plus $125 for legal fees. Mare was assaulted June 19, 1976 outside the Cromdale Hotel. Antonio Sousa was convicted of the assault. Mare suffered a bruised right leg and was unable to return to his work as a cement finisher for two weeks.

The Crimes Compensation Board assists innocent victims of violent crime who suffer pecuniary loss as a result of personal injury. The chairman of the CCB is Erwest Watkins, O.C., of Calgary.

and Nora McDonald.

The church was colorfully decorated with arrangements of mums, carnations and daisies blending with the color scheme of the bridal party.

The readings, intentions and hymns were chosen by the bride and groom and read by Raymond Soetaert. Soloist was Colleen Soetaert, accompanied by Marilyn McDonald on the organ.

The bride's attendant, Caroline Kleinbert, Marjorie McDonald and Joan Seward chose identical gowns of pastel yellow organza over taffeta with white daisy trim, complimented with matching wide brimmed hats and carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies accented with blue baby's breath.

Graham wore a light blue tuxedo, white ruffled shirt and a boutonniere of white carnation centered with a red rose.

The groom's attendants Pat Hall, Daryl England and Darrel McDonald chose identical light blue tuxedos with white and blue ruffled shirts and boutonnieres of yellow carnations.

Maureen and Graham were escorted to the altar by their parents where they were met by Rev. Father Joly who celebrated the mystical mass.

The bride looked radiant in her floor length gown extending to a train in white silk organza. The bodice was trimmed with chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and sequins with a border of pleated ruffle. The hemline was trimmed with a pleated valance that came up at the back to form a bustle.

The bishop sleeves of sheer were edged with lace and pleated ruffle. A shoulder length veil was held in place by a Juliet headpiece embroidered with lace trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Her only jewellery was a gold heart shaped pearl pendant and earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses and rosebuds knotted on six white ribbon streamers.

The guests were ushered to their pews by David England and Raymond McDonald.

Later a banquet was held at the Club Mocombo where a large number of relatives and friends gathered for a delicious meal.

A three tiered wedding cake trimmed with dainty yellow roses and glass cupid centered the head table, flanked by tall yellow candles and table centre arrangements. Mr. David Wood was master of ceremonies, adding a humorous touch while Mr. Robert Vigneau proposed a toast to the bride.

Telegrams were received from relatives in Scotland,

France and Baffin Island. Many out of town guests were present coming from as far as Nova Scotia and British Columbia.

Following the banquet a reception and dance was enjoyed by all to the music of the Satellites.

Maureen and Graham are now residing in St. Albert after a honeymoon in the Okanagan Valley.

Wildlife stamps from Great Britain

The Canadians - like the British - hold a special place in their hearts for wild animals.

Back in 1953, the Canadian Post Office began issuing special stamps for their National Wildlife Week and continued this for five years.

Now, Canadian philatelists can do so with the new issue from the British Post Office. The five stamps which make up the issue - all in values of 9p, the inland first-class postage rate for the UK - feature the hedgehog, hare, red squirrel, otter and badger.

They have been designed by British wildlife painter and illustrator, Patrick Oxenham. They are his first ever stamp designs. All five designs will appear side-by-side on sheets of stamps.

The second animal, the hare, received its name because the young are born in the open, with all their hair, their eyes open, and with the ability to hop around on their own just a few minutes after being born.

The final animal in the series is the otter, which can both travel fast on land, and swim easily, being known to travel underwater for 1/4 mile without surfacing. It is a very intelligent creature, and can be trained from a young age. It is very playful, and is known to devise its own games, such as throwing stones into water and retrieving them.

Most people are fascinated by the wonders of nature, by the strange attraction which animals hold for us all; an attraction which can be enjoyed through the medium of postage stamps. First-day covers and cancellations will be provided by the British Philatelic Bureau, Lothian House, 124 Lothian Road, Edinburgh EH3 9BB.

Install telex in libraries

Patrons of Alberta's libraries now enjoy improved access to library resources across Canada, thanks to the installation of Telex machines in seven public libraries by Alberta Culture.

a service which gives borrowers access to specific books, magazine articles and other resources housed by libraries in major centres within and beyond Alberta's borders. The system will also handle queries on the availability of material relating to general subject areas.

Alberta Culture, Library Services Branch, has installed Telex equipment in public libraries at Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Grande Prairie, Fort McMurray and in the Parkland Regional Library at Lacombe.

The aim of this and similar programs sponsored by Alberta Culture is to strengthen Alberta's library and information network, making a wide variety of library material available to patrons in all parts of the province.

ALBERTA ATTRACTIVE TO ENGINEERING FIRMS

"Industrial projects with investment amounting to billions of dollars assist in making Alberta engineering firms indispensable to the province," said Bob Dowling, minister of business development and tourism in announcing the release of the second edition of the Alberta Business Index '77/78. Consulting Industry in Alberta.

The index consists of an inventory of engineering, geological and geophysical consulting firms operating in the province, listed by area of specialty. In total there are 99 headings but the majority of firms fall into one of 15 major categories. These are: agricultural, chemical, civil, electrical, environmental, forestry, marine, mechanical, metallurgical, mineral, municipal, petroleum and structural engineering as well as geology and geophysics.

The objectives of the inventory are to provide information on the industry and to encourage the development of this industry by describing the capabilities which are present in Alberta. Prospective developers may be attracted because certain engineering capabilities are available in the province.

"The consulting industry is a very important service industry to Alberta," said Mr. Dowling.

Consulting Industry in Alberta is available from Alberta business development and tourism.

during the current school year; and the closing date is December 15, 1977. Judging emphasis will be on writing ability, imagination and originality.

Copies of rules have been sent to school principals and additional copies are available from the Permanent's Public Relations Office at 320 Bay Street, Toronto, Room 1502.

A company spokesman stated that it had received many favourable comments about its involvement in creative writing from principals, teachers and students from across Canada and during the 11 years of sponsorship the creative efforts of many fine young writers have come to light. In fact, many schools now make the contest a class assignment.

The company usually receives around 2,000 entries which are read and judged in January and February. Finalists are announced in March.

Canada Permanent

Trust holds

writing contest

A local student here could win as much as $1,000 for an original piece of creative writing this year. Canada Permanent Trust Company has just released the rules and regulations governing its 11th annual Creative Writing Contest which is open to all high school students from Grade 9 and up.

According to the company, there will be cash awards of $500, $300 and $100 for the top three submissions in all provinces including the combined Yukon and Northwest Territories. The first prize winners in each province will be judged together to determine the national grand prize winner who receives a total of $1,000. This is believed to be the largest cash award available to a high school student for creative writing.

The following are the major points of the contest: Students must write up to 2,000 words on any subject which can be fiction, non-fiction or any form of prose; (poetry is not eligible); entries must be written

Life courses offered

The Continuing Education Division of Grant MacEwan Community College will be offering two general interest family life courses this fall.

An intensive 5 week workshop entitled "Understanding You and The Child" will provide the opportunity for participants (couples are urged to attend) to examine, understand and improve their personal relationships with children and other adults. Beginning Wednesday, September 28, this workshop will run from 7:00 - 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday evening at a fee of $25.00 per person.

A seminar on "Marriage Enrichment" designed for couples who are interested in improving an already healthy relationship will be offered. It will focus on increasing one's self-awareness, establishing and defining expectations of one another and developing skills for more effective communications. This seminar begins November 2nd and will run for four Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. The fee is $25.00 a couple.

Both of these workshops will be held at Mill Woods Campus of Grant MacEwan Community College, 7319 - 29 Avenue. For further information call the Continuing Education Division at 462 - 2680.

TO HOLD WORKSHOPS FOR INDEPENDENT RETAILERS

A series of participatory workshops designed specifically for central Alberta independent retailers has been scheduled for October at the Chateau Lacombe, Edmonton.

Sponsor is the Retail Council of Canada, the national trade association which speaks for, and works to help solve the problems of, the nation's retail store trades. Membership is drawn from all retail sectors, and accounts for approximately 65% of Canada's retail dollar volume.

In Alberta, the Council works through the agency of Association Services West in Edmonton, headed up by Bruce Gendall, formerly a council staffer.

The workshop series will run on Tuesday evenings through October. Each session will start with a presentation, followed by participatory problem-solving under an expert session leader.

Subjects to be covered include the basics of successful merchandising, effective control techniques, measurement of operating results, planning a sound financial future, and selection and training of staff.

Session leaders include W. Richard Palmer, previously senior merchandising executive with The Bay's Northern Stores; Adrian Palmer, senior consultant with the management consulting firm of Haskins and Sells Associates; G. Brent Yeats CGA, lecturer on small business and retail management; David Fenton, head, western offices, Stevenson and Kellogg, management consultants.

St. Albert couple united at Roman Catholic church

On Saturday afternoon, July 16, in the St. Albert Roman Catholic Church, Shirley Vollmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vollmer exchanged wedding vows with Maurice Chamberland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chamberland, all of St. Albert.

The church was colourfully decorated with urns of summer flowers. White bows with a single white rose decorated the pews.

The bride, who entered the church accompanied by her father and mother, looked beautiful in her empire gown of polyester trimmed with lace appliques which enhanced the gentle train and framed her white hat crowned with red roses that ended with a soft fingertip veil dotted with lace flowers. Shirley carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses laced with baby's breath. Her maid of honour, Aline Bourgeois, and attendant, Anne Lacroix, wore matching gowns in apple green and carried three white carnations tipped in green laced in baby's breath.

The groom, his best man Real Chamberland, brother of the groom and usher Louis Malo wore forest green tuxedos. The groomsmen wore pastel green ruffled shirts with the groom in white. The ringbearer, Derek Hinton, nephew of the bride, wore a white tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt.

Also assisting with the ushering were Jack Chamberland, brother of groom, and Gary Hinton, brother-in-law of the bride.

Maurice and Shirley were united in marriage by Father Adrien Charron, great uncle of the groom from Bow Island, Alberta, assisted by Father Jake Joly. During the ceremony soloist, Chris Burkhart sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. Willas on the organ.

Harold Lema, brother-in-law of the bride, and Marcel Chamberland, brother of the groom participated in the scripture readings.

For the occasion, the bride's mother chose a beige floral gown and wore a white sparkled daisy corsage. The groom's mother wore an apricot tipped carnation corsage.

The St. Albert Community Hall was decorated for the reception which followed. Ed Rose, cousin of the bride was master of ceremonies. A three tiered wedding cake decorated with cascading blue roses adorned the head table.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kvist, from Sweden and many other relatives from St. Paul, and Innisfail.

Following the opening of gifts on Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for their honeymoon in British Columbia. They will reside in St. Albert.

Good hunting forecast

The Fish and Wildlife Division of Alberta Recreation, Parks and Wildlife rates hunting prospects good to excellent for all big game animals, good for upland birds but poor for waterfowl.

Gordon Kerr, assistant deputy minister of the division explains the past three mild winters have resulted in increased populations of moose, elk, sheep, antelope and deer.

Mule deer and antelope populations are relatively high. In an effort to prevent increasing populations from damaging range through over use, and to guard against a major loss of animals through starvation in the event of a severe winter, special female seasons are to be held for both species.

Native grouse populations are still on the upward side of their 10 year population cycle. Ruffed grouse are abundant and sharptail hunting will be good in areas having suitable habitat. Pheasant populations have substantially increased as a result of the mild winter and dry spring of this past year. The Fish and Wildlife Division will again supplement natural pheasant populations with put-and-take releases of hatchery reared birds in several areas of the province. Additional information on these releases will be announced in late September.

Waterfowl bag limits of eight ducks per day have been retained, although poor spring weather conditions have sharply reduced populations of breeding ducks in southern Alberta.

No changes in the waterfowl bag limit were made because a change in the limit would not have affected the harvest significantly. Current rates of harvesting ducks in Alberta have an insignificant impact on the size of next year's breeding population. This is because increased spring production offsets natural and hunting mortality, Mr. Kerr explains. Water conditions next spring will determine whether duck populations will recover from their current low levels, he adds.

The regulations governing the harvest of mule deer and antelope females have been designed to provide an effective harvest of animals while ensuring there will be no large concentrations of hunters.

Deer and antelope populations in each unit have been conservatively estimated with the number of permits pegged to this population estimate. Other factors taken into account were hunter access and the productive capacity of the areas.

With regard to female mule deer, Mr. Kerr notes the 21 management units in Big Game Zone 14 and the seven management units in Big Game Zone 11 will all have permits available. He estimates 650 permits will be available in Big Game Zone 14 and 850 permits in Big Game Zone 11.

Mr. Kerr says the number of permits issued will have little or no influence on hunter densities because female permits will not be valid during the first few days of the general deer season when hunting pressure usually is highest. In fact, a decrease in maximum density of deer hunters may result.

The number of people holding a special female mule deer licence will be less than 10 percent of the number of hunters hunting male deer only. This means that even if all permit holders were hunting on the same day the average hunter density which could be attributed to doe hunters would be only one hunter per every 8,500 acres. Anticipated actual densities of hunters should be much lower.

SPORTS

Plenty of football action

On September 5, St. Albert defeated the Boston Pizza team by a score of 35 to 0. Touchdowns were scored by Mark Akins, Kevin Plaisant, Mike Carwell and two by Tracy Fizzell.

Action then shifted to Langley Field on September 10, with a close match between Carma Developers and Akins Rentals. Carma kicked off to Akins, who put six points on the board with a 70 yard drive for the major, with Marty Hoffart scoring on a five yard running play. Convert was no good. Carma came out ahead at the end of the first quarter, as quarterback Aaron Banks kept and ran it in from seven yards out. Darcey Grayley made the convert good for two points.

Marty Hoffart started things out for Akins in the second quarter, when he made an end sweep for a 70 yard touchdown run. He also made the convert good for a single point. Steve Tooth put Carma in a one point lead after an 85 yard drive. The convert was no good. A 70 yard run into the end zone was called back on the second last play of the half as Carma was called for a penalty.

A 35 yard touchdown run was called back in the third quarter because of an illegal interference call against Akins. see page 32

Saints suffer ice problems

Training camp began with a few problems, beginning with Morinville's ice plant breaking down at the last minute causing the Saints to look for ice elsewhere. They secured ice time at Enoch, but the ice there wasn't put in soon enough causing it to break up after 15 minutes of skating.

Fortunately they managed to find ice at Sturgeon Arena, and training camp finally got underway 24 hours late.

With all the trouble behind them training camp is going well.

It started off with about 160 hockey players, after two days practice, cuts brought this number down to 60 players. Plans are to be down to 40 or so by the time exhibition season is underway.

There are a fair number of local boys trying for the Saints. Last year's bantam and midget players like Todd and Troy Murray, Chris Stewart, Bernie Joyal, Ben Chabot, Mark Messier, Mark Taschereau, Scott McIntyre, Brian Hermanutz and W. Vanbrabant.

Troy Murray is skating well and doesn't look out of place for a 15 year old. Mark Taschereau and Chris Stewart have been impressive on defence.

Mark Messier, who played as a 15 year old last year seems to be more mature and should prove to be a team leader.

The Saints greatly appreciated Standard General Construction's help in getting the team bus in good mechanical shape. They wouldn't have made it to the games without their help.

Tickets for the barbecue September 18 have been going well. There are still some available at the Saints office in the Grandin Mall or the St. Albert Sportshop on Perron Street.

Room and board is still needed for five boys in either Morinville or St. Albert. If you can accommodate one or more of these boys, please call 458-1977.

The St. Albert figure skating club

An executive meeting of the St. Albert Figure Skating Club was held on September 8th in the Akinsdale Clubhouse. At this meeting it was decided that a general meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 27 at 8 p.m. in the Akinsdale Clubhouse. This will be an informational meeting to discuss ice fees, the skating program schedule, ice time and skating groups. Skating equipment information will be distributed. Information on club jackets, pins and charms will be available. It is important that parents attend this meeting.

There will be an open registration for all children who want to take figure skating lessons but who have not had the opportunity due to lack of facilities. We are having this registration to determine how many skaters will have to be accommodated when the new arena opens. This registration will take place on October 12 from 4 - 6:30 p.m. in the St. Albert Arena on Perron Street.

Anyone wishing to register their child should bring their child's Alberta Health Care Insurance Number which is required on the registration form.

Senior league expands

For the second season in a row the highly competitive Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League has expanded as Redwater was granted a one year's acceptance into the league with permanent membership to be looked at when the season ends.

Last year the league took in teams from Onoway, Riviere Qui Barre and Alexander and all have indicated they will be back this season along with Calahoo, Legal, Bon Accord, Gibbons, Namoo and Villeneuve.

The 11-team league has again decided to split into two divisions with Redwater playing in the Eastern part with Namoo, Legal, Gibbons and Bon Accord.

The western loop will have teams from Calahoo, Onoway, Alexander, Villeneuve, Morinville and Riviere Qui Barre. RQB were in the east last season but were moved to the west division with the addition of Redwater.

League schedules are now being drawn up and each team is expected to play their own division teams four times each and two games with each of the other division teams.

The league is expected to start in mid-November.

In a tight contest between Akins Rentals and Carma Developers, a number of tense moments cropped up, such as this fumble by Akins Rentals on a pitch out attempt. Fortunately for Akins, the fumble was recovered immediately, and they went on to win the game 20 to 14.

Cannons and arrows vying for playoff spot

THE CANNONS enhanced their playoff chances on Monday night, with a 4-1 win over the Rockets in the Bantam Soccer League. In the above photo, the Cannons move the ball in towards the Rockets net with Steven Ball scoring on this play. The Rocket netminder made the initial save, but it got away from him, and the Cannons capitalized.

With the Bullets way out front in the Bantam Soccer House League, the Cannons (first place finishers in the spring go-round) find themselves in a close race with the Arrows (last in spring) for the remaining playoff position.

The championship will be decided in a sudden death match involving the two top finishers on Saturday, September 24, 2:30 p.m. at the Lorne Akins pitch. They will be playing for the Willowbrook Cup.

No games were played last Monday because of the holiday. Wednesday evening the Bullets hung on to defeat the Cannons 6-5 in a game which saw the Bullets ahead 5-0 at the half. The Cannons put it together in the second half but the clock ran out in time to preserve a Bullet win.

In the other game Wednesday the Arrows continued their drive for the final with a no-contest 5-1 drubbing of the floundering Rockets.

A make-up game Thursday provided the Arrows with an opportunity to put some daylight between themselves and the Cannons.

The Cannons came prepared and ran up a 5-1 lead before the Arrows came back to make the score respectable at 5-3. With only four games remaining in the schedule the clubs are tied at six points.

Willie Conte of the Cannons is player of the week. He takes the honour for his strong play both ways last week. Willie picked up four goals and two assists to move into second place in scoring.

All all-star game will be played at the Sir George Simpson pitch Thursday, September 22 at 6:30. The House League all-stars will take on Helmut's Masonry bantam representative team. The all-stars will be out to avenge two previous losses at the hands of the rep team.

A soccer wind-up banquet has been organized for Friday, September 30 involving boys and their parents from the pee-wee and bantam soccer leagues. (See ad this page).

Junior Saints preparing for exhibitions

Ice problems aside, the St. Albert Junior Saints are preparing for the exhibition season. Their first scheduled game was to be played tonight in Morinville against the Edmonton Crusaders but the ice is not in yet.

They play in Red Deer

Thursday and then in Sherwood Park against the Crusaders Friday night at 8 p.m.

The next home game will be the inter-squad affair with members of both the Junior Saints and Standard Generals involved. Following this game the club is holding a barbecue at the Seminary on the Trail. (See ice problem story).

A contest which will prove to be a real thriller takes place at the St. Albert Arena, September 20 when the Saints parent club, the Medicine Hat Tigers of the WCMJHL are in town to play the locals.

game at the St. Albert Arena.

McGillis, Ken Solheim, Bill Hobbins, Mark Komonoski, Wayne Van Brabant, Brian Hermanutz, Rod Buskus, John Kudrinko, Bernie Joyal, Rick Kreway, Ron Sander, Dan Pelletier, Almik Forbes and P. Charles.

Sailfish swim club ends triumphant season

Members of the St. Albert Sailfish Swim Club can rightly call themselves the best summer swim club in the province. In addition to outstanding victories in meets throughout the summer, climaxed by its win in the regional meet, St. Albert swimmers played a large part in the region's win in the provincial meet.

Seven of the 13 and 14 year old swimmers from the Sailfish Club qualified for participation at the Alberta Summer Games, held over the Labor Day weekend in Red Deer. The local team coach, Peter Odinga, coached the swimmers from Zone 5. Sheila Dick placed second in the 100M breast stroke, and Carolyn Wilhelm came in first, by a three second margin, in the 100M backstroke. Carolyn and Claudette Larocque earned places on the zone's freestyle "A" relay team, which placed third. These two girls, plus Sheila Dick, likewise pushed the "A" medley relay team to a third place finish. Norm Odinga and Ian McNeill qualified as members of the zone freestyle "B" relay team, which came in second, and Jack Bakker helped the medley "B" team to a third place win.

The Sailfish Club honors individual members with trophies at the conclusion of each season. Named top junior swimmers were Scott Flowers and Susan Otto, while Kent Madsen and Diane Pass received similar honors as top senior swimmers. Trophies for being most improved junior swimmers went to Susan Pearce and Andre Borloi, and to senior swimmers Cassi Tate and Gary Ratchor. Sheila Dick and Claudette Larocque shared the designation of most dedicated swimmers.

The executive of the Sailfish Club takes this opportunity to thank the St. Albert community and the many interested individuals who have supported the club this year. Enthusiastic encouragement from their city helps these young people in their competitive endeavors.

Register now for junior rifle course

The Fish and Game Club is once again offering its Junior Rifle Course to anyone who is 12 years old and over.

The idea behind the course is to channel the child's natural curiosity about firearms into safe knowledge. This knowledge can be put to use later when, as adults, they qualify to go hunting or to own their own firearms.

The course is not aimed at children alone. Any interested adults who have had little or no experience in the use, care, handling of firearms is also welcome.

The fall course began registration last night at the club's general meeting, but those interested can register tonight at the Grierson Range at 9542 - 101 Avenue from 7 - 9 p.m. The first class starts September 21 at the Range, and the fee for the course is $7.00. This fee covers the cost of ammunition, targets and insurance.

Anyone wishing more information on the course can call Dennis Patterson at 452-3981.

There was lots of pressure on Carma Developers quarterback Aaron Banks, as Akens Rentals defeated them 20 to 14 last Saturday. Here Banks keeps on an end sweep for a gain of eight, in the dying minutes of the game, deep in Akens territory.

Correction re: Bird regulations

An article in last week's Gazette "Migratory Birds Regulations for 1977 Reflect Conservation Needs," stated respective daily and possession limits for ducks had been reduced to 6 and 12. These limits apply to Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The Alberta regulations, which appeared in the ins. This quarter was void of points.

In the fourth quarter, with Carma leading by one point, Adrian Proulx intercepted a pass which led the way for Akens to put six more points on the board after a 50 yard drive. Marty Hoffart made the major, and Marvin Cey converted to end the game 20 to 14 in favor of Akens.

The second game of the day saw action between Willowbrook Homes and Standard General. Willowbrook kicked off and scored on a 25 yard run by Brent Sedgewick, after a 75 yard drive. Convert was no good.

Lyle Soetaert set up a touchdown with a 25 yard run, allowing quarterback Mike Tessier to keep and go over for the major. Again the convert was no good, leaving the game tied at six all.

The only other scoring was in the third quarter, after a 40 yard drive. Brent Sedgewick scored on a 25 yard run. Convert was no good, final score Willowbrook 12, Generals 6.

On Sunday, the K of C bantams played Safeway in Kinsmen Park. The K of C's kicked off to Safeway, who put the only points of the first quarter on the board, with a 100 yard run by Craig Kratzner at about the 10 minute mark. Convert was good, also by Craig Kratzner.

Safeway scored three more points in the second quarter with a 35 yard field goal by Mike Shrivvers. However, the K of C's came on and scored a touchdown on a punt return of 95 yards by Craig Dickie. Convert was good by quarterback John Tworek, to leave the score at the end of the half 10 to 7 for Safeway.

The only score in the remaining time was by K of C's on an 85 yard drive, helped by a 30 yard run by Craig Dickie. The touchdown was scored by Kevin Plaisant and John Tworek made the convert good, for a final score of 14 to 10 for the K of C's.

LBH Builders honour fastball players

The LBH Builders fastball team held their annual banquet and awards night Friday evening at the St. Albert Inn and from all reports it was a great success.

Club President Roger Lemieux, who is also the sponsor, arranged the event along with Wally Cooper, and awards were given to the following players for their achievements during the season that saw LBH finish in seventh place in the 14-team Sturgeon Valley Fastball League and then lose a tough semi-final series with Spruce Grove K of C.

Garry Mix was presented with the Most Valuable Player award and it couldn't have gone to a more deserving player. Garry has played wherever Coach Lemieux has asked and has also given 125% at all times.

The batting champion trophy was won by hard hitting Wally (Pie Face) Cooper who not only is great with the stick but also plays a top notch first base.

Gerry (Buck) Bucini took home the most sportsmanlike player award and it was most deserving as Buck is always trying to give his best to help any member of the team in any capacity.

The Golden Glove award was won by the old pro Herm Tietz who had a tremendous year behind the plate for the Builders.

The most improved player trophy went to Gary Muscroft who also had a terrific year and will be a big plus for the team come playing time next season.

Les Hrdlicka, the youngest player on the team also had a tremendous year playing both in the infield and outfield and his efforts earned him the Rookie of the Year award.

The evening was topped off by a dance and already Coach Lemieux is looking forward to next season, when he hopes to win it all.

Chiefs win in Enoch

Calahoo Chiefs, led by the strong pitching of right-hander Art Stevenson defeated Enoch Tomahawks 6-5 Sunday to win the "B" event of the eight-team Enoch Indian Days fastball tournament.

Chiefs started off the tournament Saturday on the wrong foot as they dropped a 11-6 decision to the Slave Lake All-stars.

Sunday turned out to be a different day as the Chiefs blasted Alexander Braves 11-1 in the morning with Stevenson holding the heavy hitting Braves to only one run.

The win put the Chiefs into the "B" final against the host Enoch Tomahawks and for the first inning it appeared as though the Chiefs were going to get clobbered as Enoch jumped on young Robbie Werle for four runs and only one out in the opening inning.

Calahoo coach Sneaky Berube replaced Werle with Stevenson and the side was retired without anymore damage.

Chiefs opened their scoring with a pair of runs in the second inning and then took a 6-4 lead in the third coming up with four runs. Tomahawks only managed one more run in the fifth off Stevenson.

The win was worth $400 for the Chiefs.

The "A" event was won by the Stony Plain Kings as they also came from behind to beat Stony Plain Playboys 3-2.

Danny Wichuk went all the way for the Kings on the mound while the Playboys started Lawrence Schoepp and relieved him with Gerald McGinn in the fifth inning.

Local ball player involved in win over Japanese team

Wayne Biggs of St. Albert played a strong game at second base during the Edmonton Cardinals 4-1 win over the touring Kobe Steel team.

Kobe Steel are the reigning Japanese national champs. They went otherwise undefeated on their cross-Canada tour.

The Japanese team plays at home before crowds averaging 40,000 and has placed six players on the Japanese World Cup team.

Japan placed second in 1975 and third last year in the World's which will be held later this month in Nicaragua.

To give an idea of the strength of the Kobe team and the game the Cardinals played to defeat them, the second game of the doubleheader against the Almac Steelers (including five Alberta Major League players) was called after seven innings with Kobe ahead 24-0.

About 2,000 fans took in the games.

The Cardinals played an almost flawless defensive game recording only one error.

In the first inning the Cards got a big psychological lift when pitcher Perry Lynchak made a save on a line drive through the middle and ran down a Kobe runner attempting to score from third.

The team pulled together and in the bottom of the third, trailing 1-0 scored three runs on the strength of Ed Wagner's double.

The scoring was wrapped up in the bottom of the eighth.

Coaching played a big part in the game and Wayne feels it was the decision to go with four pitchers thus keeping the Japanese guessing which won the game for them.

The Cardinals won the Sunburst League (St. Albert Saints play in this league) the Alberta Championship and the Western Canadian Championship. Wayne, who pitches as well as playing, second base went 10 to 0 this year including wins at the Alberta Championship, Sunburst final, and one game during the Western Canadian playoffs.

The St. Albert Comets, members of the province's top intermediate hockey league will hold a meeting Thursday, September 15 at residence Claude Contant's residence on 33 Fenwick Crescent.

The meeting will get underway at 8 p.m. with a number of items to get cleaned up in preparation for the Alberta Major Intermediate League opener, October 18 in Camrose.

Comets first home game will be October 23 against Enoch.

Coach Kerry Ketter is expected to announce the dates of the training camp sometime later this week as it is expected that the St. Albert arena's ice will be in next week.

Practice dates will be announced in next week's Gazette.

Skateboarding expert feature attraction at Show

Gary Kocot is only 18 years old but already he's one of the best skateboarders in the world.

He makes it look easy as he executes such difficult manoeuvres as three-board handstands and jumping over 10 persons in a line.

This wizard of skateboarding will be a feature attraction at the fourth annual Edmonton International World of Wheels show September 30 thru October 2 at the Sportex.

In addition to regular performances of his uncanny skill, he will also give demonstrations in skate-board technique and safety.

The California professional, who's been skateboarding for only two years, is noted for his extreme smoothness and agility on the board. He has made up to 15 consecutive 360-degree turns on a skateboard.

Kocot captured the 1976 New York Masters Invitational Pro Meet, and has been featured in two major skateboarding films.

The International World of Wheels show, featuring many of the world's most unusual custom-designed cars, vans, hot rods and bikes, will be open to the public from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Power skating registration

Community Services

Registrations for power skating will be taken on Saturday, September 24 from 10 - 11:30 a.m. in Grandin Clubhouse (beside the swimming pool). This program is for all ages but is not for learners and participants must at least be able to skate the width of the arena.

Places are limited and it will be a case of first come first served.

The annual general meeting of the power skating club will be held at 7:30 on Thursday, September 22 in Mission Clubhouse. This is a meeting which parents especially should attend so that they will know what is going on and what is planned for the future for the club.

Blue Jays recall two sign one

The Toronto Blue Jays recently recalled six players to their major league roster from minor league clubs as the player limit expanded to 40 players from 25 for the final month of the season. Recalled to the major league roster were pitchers Tom Bruno and Dennis DeBarr from Toledo, Mike Darr from Jersey City, and Butch Edge from Reno; infielder Garth Iorg from Charleston and outfielder Gary Woods from Toledo. Of the six, only Mike Darr and Gary Woods will actually report to the club and see action in September.

Woods, a fleet-footed 24 year old outfielder, was the Blue Jays' opening day centrefielder and batted .230 in 33 games, before going to Toledo on May 27. Darr was with the Blue Jays in spring training and was sent to Jersey City, where he was a key member of the starting rotation and fired a one-hitter in mid-August. He has never appeared in a major league game, nor has he pitched at the Triple A level.

The two players will report at the conclusion of their minor league sessions this weekend.

The team has also announced the signing of 19 year old Ed Petryschuk of Leamington, Ontario, to a professional contract. Petryschuk, who bats and throws righthanded, was signed by Blue Jays' Director of Canadian Scouting Bob Prentice on the recommendation of scouts Jim Ridley and Bob Deakin. He will report to the Jays' Class A farm club at Utica, N.Y., at the conclusion of the 1977-78 school year at the University of Waterloo.

Petryschuk hit a spectacular .517 to win the Windsor Junior League batting championship this season, after winning the Essex County League title in 1976.

He is the seventh Canadian player to be signed by the Blue Jays this year.

All in the name

People who name fishing lures have a lot of imagination. Some of the titles they give their creations cause even the most experienced anglers to wonder what the lure is supposed to do.

For example, there's one called the Coathanger, which immediately gives rise to an impression of a fish removing its two-button sports jacket and hanging it up before striking the hook.

Competing with the Coathanger in the clothing field is Hot Pants, a lure obviously designed to appeal to the male of the species.

Many fishing lures have names which promise great things for the angler who buys them. A couple that have found their way into the tackle boxes of Mercury outboards' fishing experts are the Giant Killer, and the Bass Bomber.

Some fishing lures are named for the seductiveness they employ in an effort to tempt a fish their way. These include the Hustler, the Jigolo, and one which promises a lively time on the dance floor with the name Salty Boogie.

And perhaps some fish are threatened into striking the lure when faced with the deadly impact of the Bomber and the Torpedo.

Then there's the Swedish Pimple, the Pigtail, the Diamond Rattler, and the Whiz Bang!

At any rate, as you ponder the selection of lures in a tackle store, it's difficult to keep from wondering who is supposed to bite. The fish, or the fisherman?

Kinsmen hockey registrations

The Kinsmen minor hockey registration for the coming season will end this Saturday with application forms being accepted from 9 to 12 noon at the Grandin Clubhouse, next to the swimming pool.

Pre-registration can also be made at both the St. Albert Sportshop on Perron Street and RMC Sports Centre on the Grandin Mall up to 9 p.m. Friday night.

No registrations will be accepted after Saturday as the hard working Kinsmen would like to get the teams formed so that play can start as soon as the ice is in the arena which is expected in late September or early October depending on the weather.

THE OPEN MIND

It is not necessary to have an opinion on every matter. All that we know is still infinitely less than all that still remains unknown. A scientist may search for days and years, and return without a single opinion. His habit of life and thought demands that he shall believe nothing without evidence. Like him, we shall profit if we learn to be painstaking in the discovery of truth, and to identify it before expressing opinions. That is much more exciting and rewarding than trying to prove something.

When we approach the choices and judgements of life with open minds we are likely to find that nothing is altogether good or true; and nothings is altogether bad or false. What may appear to the casual person as a stain on someone's character will perhaps reveal itself to you as a scar from a hard-won field.

The opinions of three eminent men, widely separated in time and in qualities, may be brought together on this point. Socrates, the Greek philosopher of the fourth century B.C., said, "I am extremely desirous to be persuaded by you, but not against my own better judgement." Thomas Carlyle, the Scottish essayist, said: "It is useful, may essential, to see his good qualities before pronouncing on his bad." And Thomas Edison, the inventor, said: "I haven't any conclusions to give; I am just learning about things myself."

CKUA listeners oppose program content changes

An independent research study has shown that regular listeners to Access Radio CKUA are strongly opposed to any major increase in the instructional program content of the radio station. The study follows publication of a White Paper on CKUA which was released by Access in February of this year.

The White Paper research was completed in response to guidelines from the Alberta Educational Communications Authority, composed of the two ministers of education. The Authority indicated that up to 25% of CKUA programming should be instructional. In addition, the Canadian Television Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) had called for an increase in verbal content.

In response, Access suggested changes in answer to both federal and provincial requirements. Access proposed that such requirements could be satisfied by a minor increase in instructional programs of one percent per year to a maximum of 10 percent.

The research study, which analyzed 741 listener responses to the White Paper, indicated that 51% of listeners are opposed to the Provincial Authority guidelines that instructional programming be increased substantially. Only 18% were in favour of such change. Response was almost evenly divided on the CRTC preference for more programs of a verbal nature with 36% of respondents favouring and 35% opposing such programs. On changes suggested by Access which operates the radio station, 38% of listeners were not in favour, with 30% supporting such changes. The study was conducted by Complan Research of Alberta.

Classical music as well as news and public affairs programs were rated high in popularity by listeners. In addition, cultural programs, jazz, blues and popular music continue to have wide support among listeners. The fact that CKUA does not carry commercials was also a popular feature of the station.

Results of the White Paper research will be sent to the Alberta Educational Communications Authority, where Access will press for adoption of its compromise position to make only a gradual increase in educational and instructional programming on CKUA.

At present, CKUA broadcasts on AM radio from Edmonton and FM stereo from Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, making it the only provincial network station in Canada. As CKUA approaches its 50th anniversary in November, the opening of two new transmitters in Grande Prairie and Peace River late this fall will bring some 85% of Albertans within reach of CKUA broadcasting.

It seems somehow criminal to some people to change their minds. There is nothing wrong with telling people one thing today and something else tomorrow: we change, and the world changes. Many things which were true yesterday are not so today.

It is a sign of our vitality to own that we have changed our opinion, indicating that we are wiser than we were. They are, indeed, wise people who keep their minds open so that they recognize important changes.

People with closed minds are prejudiced in favour of yesterday's thoughts. They resent having to question and re-examine their attitudes and ideas; still more do they resent it when others raise questions. Emerson dismissed such people in this way: "A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, adored by little statesmen and philosophers and divines."

The army psychiatrist asked the new soldier, "Do you ever go out with girls?" "No," was the reply.

"Why not?" asked the doctor.

"Because my wife won't let me," replied the recruit.

Here Today - Here Tomorrow

by JIM SMITH

Sometime — next week, next month, next year, or next decade (pick one: your guess is as good as the next person's) — the federal government's present wage and price controls programme will come to an end. But it's proving harder to get out of controls than the government expected when it introduced the programme a couple of years ago.

Some of the blame can be pinned on big business and big labour. The government offered to remove mandatory controls if big business and big labour would voluntarily follow wage and price guidelines in the future — only to have both parties refuse to cooperate. So much for the government's hopes of getting out of controls easily.

But don't feel too sorry for the government. After all, the real reason why we are likely to have controls for much longer than most of us anticipated a couple of years ago is the government's own inept economic management. Instead of using the past two years to introduce measures which could help counter inflation, Ottawa has simply fueled the fires of inflation by spending even more recklessly.

Controls were introduced by Prime Minister Trudeau with orders that Canadians must develop "new attitudes". But government stuck with its old attitudes. The government now takes more out of every dollar earned than it took two years ago.

Because governments have refused to control spending, our businesses face high federal, provincial, and municipal taxes. The end result is higher wages, higher interest rates — higher everything than the United States.

We could create jobs in Canada. Currently, we import $10 billion more products than we export — and much of this could be going into domestic production if our costs were in line.

From 1970 to 1975, Canada's oil prices were lower than world levels. This should have given our manufacturers a competitive advantage internationally. Instead, the various governments borrowed heavily and forced the value of the Canadian dollar up to $1.03 in U.S. terms. We threw away a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business argues that the best cure for our present problems is (a) massive cuts in federal and provincial spending accompanied by (b) sharp cuts in sales taxes. The programme would create jobs while reducing the cost of living.

The government has shown no signs of interest in the C.F.I.B. proposal. But that's to be expected: the measures require strong leadership. Getting out of controls will not be easy. If the government refuses to provide strong, aggressive leadership, controls are here to stay.

Fingers in the Dike

by JIM SMITH

Well, here we are in the midst of the most serious unemployment mess since the dreary days of the 1930s and it promises to get much worse by the end of winter. So what is government doing? In typical fashion, our national leaders are sticking their fiscal fingers in the economic dike and praying for a miracle.

You can count on one thing about government: whenever it gets into economic trouble, it responds by trying to shore up big business. The assumption in Ottawa is that big business is the foundation of our economy. But, as a new book called "Small Business: Building a Balanced Economy" by York University's Dr. Rein Peterson strongly points out, big business isn't necessarily good business. Not, at least, for all Canadians.

Dr. Peterson spent a year investigating some of the more popular beliefs about the merits of big business. The results of his investigations are surprising. For instance, although big business is believed to be the most significant source of employment in Canada, in fact, only 15% of the big firm's total costs are for wages. The small firm, on the other hand, pays out approximately 30% of its total expenditures as wages. So the small firm is responsible for more employment, per dollar of sales, than the large firm.

Now, you might suspect that the government would go out of its way to help the small businessman. After all, a thriving small business sector could solve much of the employment crisis. But the government doesn't see it that way.

Instead, the small firm because it has a higher proportion of its business tied up in labour — bears a heavier paperwork and tax burden than the large firm. Not only must the employer act as the government's tax collector, but it must also contribute to unemployment insurance and pension funds on the employee's behalf. Meanwhile, the big firms — which can use machines to replace large numbers of workers receive tax breaks from the government and are freed from much of the paperwork that comes with employing others.

The way it works out, the small firm is actually paying for the social costs that are created by the big firm. In socialist countries, Dr. Peterson discovered, the big, state-owned firms consistently lose money; the deficit is paid out of taxes on the profitable small firms.

And what about the theory that the small firm gets tax concessions that aren't available to big business? Dr. Peterson found that the average smallest corporation actually pays 27.7% tax on earnings while the biggest corporation, after allowing for capital incentives, pays 28%. In other words, the so-called "dual corporate tax rate" which the government claims means much lower taxes for small business than for big business is a sham.

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business has suggested that UIC and CPP contributions should be removed from the employer's responsibilities and tied in to the income tax system. Dr. Peterson's findings back up the Federation and prove it's time the government quit relying on fiscal fingers in the economic dike.

Legal mayor quitting council scene

Although Nominations Day is still a week away, a few brave souls in Sturgeon have already declared their intent to run/not to run in the fall election.

Legal Mayor Arthur Morin, who has been on Legal council for the past five years, says he will not be running for office this time round. Mr. Morin confirmed this week that a health problem has forced him to duck out of the running.

Legal Councillor Roland Prefontaine says that he is undecided and "Why do you ask when we are not sure ourselves?"

Illness has also forced Gibbons Deputy Mayor Anne Van Noord out of the running; she recently resigned her post on Gibbons council because of health problems, and a member of the family confirmed that Mrs. Van Noord had been hospitalized this week as her health problems worsened.

But Mayor of Gibbons Reg Austin says he will be running for office again this fall. He took over from former Gibbons Mayor Snip Loblick in November 1976 after that official resigned owing to business pressures.

Ten years Mayor of Morinville, Art Stapleton says he will also be running for re-election this fall, "if the public want me."

He says it'll take another three year term to finish his "mandate," and then "I'll retire."

Councillor Ross Quinn says he hasn't made his mind up yet about running in the election and will give his answer September 21.

Also in Morinville, six year man on the council Garnet Wiley says he won't be running in the election October 19. Three year man Jack McRae says he will, while Roger Champagne with eight years on council is as yet undecided.

Councillor Harvey Atkinson, with two terms on council will be in the running and Councillor Moe Butt was unavailable for comment at the time of going to press.

Reeve of the MD of Sturgeon Bill Flynn said he will run again for council.

He has been with the Sturgeon council for 24 years.

Council member for Division Seven in Sturgeon Walter Jerram told the Gazette he will be running again; he has six years experience with the MD council.

Bon Accord Mayor Ken Fearnley who not long ago took over from former Mayor Archie Jenkins says he will be running again for Mayor. He has three years council experience.

Others not running on Bon Accord council are Keith Whitson, George Grainger and Terry Murphy is not

Frances Lema wins conservation award

A 17 year old St. Albert girl has been named the fourth recipient of the Grant MacEwan Conservation Award.

Frances Lema, the 1977 winner, received her award from Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhauer at the Junior Citizen Awards Banquet held in Calgary, September 9 in conjunction with the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association annual convention.

The award was introduced three years ago to recognize a 4H member who displays, practices and demonstrates conservation programs learned at the annual 4H summer conservation camp.

A member of the Villeneuve 4H club, Frances attended the 1976 Conservation Camp at Sundre.

It is jointly sponsored by Alberta Power Ltd. and Calgary Power Ltd. as part of the utilities' effort to make the public more aware of the value of environment protection and conservation.

Frances' efforts to share her information through public speaking, letters and articles to her community newspapers and personal contact contributed towards her being named for the award.

"After attending the conservation camp I was quite enthusiastic about spreading the conservation message. I had a high interest and concern in environmental management," she said.

"I talked to people about conservation, about how they felt. I think I may have persuaded a number of people about the importance of conservation and preservation."

Frances implemented several conservation programs on her family's farm and in the community.

MORINVILLE COUNCIL swung into action Monday night with what looked like a light agenda stretching things till 11:30 p.m.

Wrong policing contract sent

Following are highlights from the regular meeting of Morinville council Monday night. Mayor Art Stapleton was in the chair with all councillors present.

COUNCIL GAVE THIRD reading to bylaw 6/77 which rezones land near the town's Department of Highway Building from agricultural to industrial uses.

COUNCILLOR HARVEY ATKINSON told council that a contract has been awarded to Lenmore Construction for the building of two kitchens at Heritage Lake.

ALBERTA DISASTER SERVICES donated $247 for Morinville's own emergency response services.

THE SOLICITOR GENERAL'S office made a booboo recently when it sent Morinville the wrong policing contract. The contract was for a town of over 25,000 people!

Morinville hangs in at the 1500 mark.

Sturgeon takes Thorhild addition under its wing

The MD of Sturgeon is trying to work out how best it can accommodate Division One of Thorhild County into its own boundaries.

In Division One is the town of Redwater, population 1500 as well as Imperial Oil's gas processing plant and fertilizer plants lying within the region.

Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn told the Gazette the order in council which accommodated the new division into Sturgeon "leaves us still with seven divisions."

But another option, under an agreement with the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs Bill Isbister, could allow the MD to add one more division, giving Sturgeon eight separate areas.

Reeve Flynn pointed out that when the MD saw the new order, "we amended it to have an eighth division."

The MD formally agreed to the Order in Council at a special meeting held in Morinville last week.

"We accepted the order," said Reeve Flynn, "but...we recommended to the Minister to revise the order by giving them (Thorhild) one additional division so these people would have direct representation on council."

Till the fall election sorts out the allocation of seats on the new Sturgeon council.

Mayor refutes bad road allegation

The Morinville Board of Trade was criticized in short order at Morinville council Monday night for making "unwarranted" allegations that the town did not know how to build roads.

The criticisms came out as council discussed next year's provincial street assistance program, after Councillor Ross Quinn came in from a Board of Trade meeting with the allegations fresh in his mind.

There were allegations that Morinville "roads would be washed down the sewer in one year."

"The comment was made we didn't know what the hell we were doing," said Mr. Quinn.

Mr. Quinn said the Board of Trade should have come to the council if they had legitimate complaints.

Morinville Mayor Art Stapleton did not stay silent for long after the allegations were brought to council.

He wanted permission to set up the new street assistance program "as soon as we get the five year debenture."

And he said, "When people complain, they would make damn good road engineers if they weren't so good at their present vocation."

He added, "The streets have been kept as good as they have by the type of top we have on them now."

"The Town of Morinville

New truck for fire department

The Morinville Fire Department was given the go ahead to purchase a $2,500 panel truck by Morinville council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Council had the choice of getting the department a truck from either Fort Saskatchewan or Legal, and the more local vehicle was chosen. Price tag on the Legal vehicle was $400 more.

The rationale for getting the panel truck was for the Morinville Fire Chief who has reportedly been carrying some volunteers in his own vehicle to the scene of fires.

Councillor Garnet Wiley said it was his personal feeling the fire department should have a new truck.

So the Solicitor General's Department has had to go through the re-signing of the agreement again, with apologies to Morinville for any inconvenience caused.

STREET LIGHTS on Champlain (100th Street) are being upgraded council was told.

MORINVILLE COUNCIL will be able to whoop it up at a social evening with Associated Engineers September 21.

There's jubilation that at long last Morinville is solving its sewage and drainage problems. AESL invited the council out to the Safari Inn to make a point of the recent successes with the sewage lagoon project.

COUNCIL CARRIED a motion making Leon Riopel returning officer for the upcoming election in Morinville. They also said there will be an advance poll, but no date has been set for that yet.

A NUMBER OF groups in Morinville, like the Historical Society, are looking at the Notre Dame Convent, built in 1908, for various uses.

There is talk that it could become a provincial historic site.

Reeve Flynn said Sturgeon will invite a member from Thorhild to sit on the MD council.

division for direct representation would be a move in the right direction."

As the political loose ends continue to be tied, Reeve Flynn points out that Sturgeon will administer the new division to see it has proper road grading and other municipal services.

Public Works, Fire protection and recreation services all switch into the former Thorhild Division One from Sturgeon.

Reeve Flynn said Sturgeon had also processed its first building permit from the former Thorhild County and will also take in "a few more miles of the North East Waterline too."

So the mayor refuted the allegations and said the Board of Trade should have sent open criticism to the town.

He stated, "I wonder how many would have had gas tanks on their cars if we had not done it (kept up the roads)."

Councillor Garnet Wiley said he didn't think much of the Board of Trade if that was all they had to do.

Roses for Canada

At two Agriculture Canada research stations, plant breeders are developing roses that are hardy enough to withstand Canadian winters. In Ottawa, Dr. Felisita Svejda has been working with rugosa rose hybrids to develop cultivars that have longer blooming periods, greater flower production and better flower quality.

Dr. H. H. Marshall at the Morden, Man., Research Station has developed the Parkland series of roses which are drought resistant and suitable for the Prairies.

Riviere Qui Barre to record history

The history of Riviere Qui Barre goes back nearly 100 years, and the town's Recreational Society has decided to record the story.

Some 4,000 brochures are being distributed through the mail or personal contact. The brochures ask residents to think back and relate what they remember of the town -- its residents, its churches, schools, entertainments and other aspects of life. Anyone who did not receive a brochure can write Mrs. Marcella McGillis at Riviere Qui Barre, Alta., T0G 1Y0. The Book Committee is depending on its residents, past and present, to send in the stories of their families. The book will be a hard-cover edition of 200 pages or more, depending on the amount of material sent in. All articles must be in by December 31, 1977.

New John Deere Grain Moisture Tester

Take the guesswork out of your grain harvesting, drying, and marketing decisions with the new John Deere Grain Moisture Tester. This portable, battery-powered unit tests all popular grain crops quickly and easily. Just pour the grain sample into the testing chamber until the reading appears. Push the button for a temperature-compensated reading. There's no weighing, no complicated calculations. The tester gives a direct reading for corn. Use the chart provided to convert the reading for other grains. See us about one soon

Tap dancing classes will start on Monday, September 19 at the Community Centre. Class times will be announced through the school and a notice will be posted in the Village Superette. Please do not buy tap shoes until lessons have been underway for a time.

There has been quite a lot of interest shown in forming a Cub pack but so far no leader has shown up. If anyone is interested in being a leader or a helper for cubs, please call Pauline 921-3625 soon.

The United Church Women have changed from their regular meeting date of the first Wednesday in the month to the first Tuesday of the month at 1:30 p.m. in the church. The next meeting is slated for October 4 and you are cordially invited to attend. The club regrets to announce that due to the lack of helping hands the fall supper held annually on Remembrance Day, November 11, will not be held this year. Instead they are asking your whole-hearted support for the community supper held annually on Thanksgiving Day, October 10, in the Bon Accord Arena.

Registration will be held for hockey, figure, power and learn to skate on September 20, 21 and 22 in the Bon Accord Community Centre from 7 - 9. Plans for the ice plant are progressing satisfactorily and should be in operation before Christmas.

Clubs of the community are planning a coffee morning on Wednesday, September 28 from 10 - 11:30 a.m. in the Community Centre. This will provide an opportunity for new residents of the community to meet their new neighbors. There will be an information sheet available listing clubs, churches, activities, services - just about everything anyone would like to know. Babysitting will be provided. Watch for a personal invitation. Someone will be calling on you.

The first parade for #524 Cadet Squadron was held in the Bon Accord Community Centre on Tuesday, September 13 at 7:30 p.m. The squadron welcomes boys and girls who will be 13 by the end of December, 1977. Congratulations are extended to Fred Hutchings of Gibbons, who was judged top Alberta cadet at the senior leaders course held at Cold Lake this summer. Neil Forsild, who won an athletic scholarship to Camp Borden, plans an interesting program in sports activities for the squadron this coming season. Caroline Hutchings attended a Ground Search and Survival camp at Jarvis Lake, near Hinton. This camp was attended by cadets from Ontario to British Columbia. Cadets can look forward to some of Caroline's Puff Ball soup at camp-outs this year. Marij Meijer took photography at Penhold. David Milligan attended basic training camp and Doug Russell took the phase 2 band course, all at Penhold.

while Allen Saunders took venture training at Camp Wright near Athabasca this past summer. The program offers a variety of interesting and educational programs and is worth investigating.

Friends and family gathered at the Bon Accord Community Centre to honour Mr. Everett McEachren on the occasion of his 80th birthday, on Sunday, September 11.

A course in molded ceramics is scheduled to start the third week in October. Are you interested and if so have you registered? No course will be offered unless sufficient interest is indicated.

Members of the Golden Gems senior citizen club were guests at a birthday party for Mrs. Hazel Putnam held at the home of Pat and Aric Reichle on September 6. Everyone enjoyed an afternoon of cards, games and just visiting, followed by a lovely supper prepared by the hostess. On behalf of us all, thank you, Pat.

The Farmers' Market at the Bon Accord Arena is still well supplied with fresh produce including fresh eggs at reasonable prices. House plants, craft articles, fresh vegetables, jams, jellies and marmalade, cheese and honey and any number of other items are all available on Wednesdays from 6 - 9 p.m. Tickets for the Winsday and Provincial Lotteries are also sold by the senior citizen club with proceeds from all senior citizen activities being poured into a recreation facility for seniors just north of the arena.

Students register at Namao High School

The new composite Namao High School took in its first students last week September 6 and 7.

Grades 11 and 12 students were registered September 7 and Grades 10 September 6. But Superintendent of Sturgeon School Division #24 Frank Robinson says that the start of instruction has been postponed till September 19.

Mr. Robinson says he expects the school will be completed by then, but not the gymnasium area.

A wooden floor has to be put into the gym, and its base will have to be completely dried out, otherwise the floor will be subject to cracking and swelling.

Students will still be able to obtain credits without hassle even though instruction time has been cut back to September 19.

Mr. Robinson says the teaching day will be increased by 12 minutes by lopping that amount of time from the noon hour break.

He also says all furniture and equipment is over at the school now.

October 14 is the date of the official opening of the school, at which Education Minister Julian Kaztak is expected to attend.

Registrations needed for courses

There will be a registration meeting in Gibbons School on September 20 at 8 p.m. for registrations in pottery, hand-building and wheel throwing, in macramé, basic beginning course, in Know your Car, basketball, volleyball, badminton.

Great interest was shown in the last three areas and classes will be held.

Other courses offered macramé, pottery, denim, crocheting, conversation French, quilting, creative stitching, knitting, painting, Know your Car, typing, etc., welding, cake decorating, first aid, basketry, babysitting, belly dancing, karate, kung fu, keep fit, weaving, yoga, cross country skiing, children's gymnastics, sewing, knits and furniture refinishing.

Ten registrations are needed for each course before it will be held.

Some of the above courses are being offered at Bon Accord. If you really want your course offered try to get enough people to participate.

We will all have something in common with United States President Carter tonight when the Kinsmen make their rounds with their peanut drive. Please leave your porch lights on. Also tonight is registration night for cubs, scouts and Venturers, 7 p.m. at the International Building. Parents only are asked to attend.

Big savings on fresh produce are still possible at the Farmers' Market every Saturday morning from 10 o'clock at the Agriplex.

Congratulations to Brian and Bonnie Shumka on the birth of their daughter Wendy Kathleen. The wee bundle of joy was born at the Sturgeon General Hospital on Thursday September 1 at 5:25 a.m. and weighed in at 7 lbs. 10 1/2 ozs. She will undoubtedly make a fine baby sister for Carl.

The Senior Citizens are planning a bazaar, tea and bake sale and hope to have all their members supply some article or pastry for this purpose. Dates and other arrangements will be published as they are established.

Nominations for our local government will be received Wednesday, September 21 from 10 in the morning until noon by Returning Officer Leon Riopel in preparation for the election to be held October 19, 1977. Elections will be held for six councillors and a mayor. Candidates must be able to read and write English, be of the full age of 18, have been a resident of Alberta for the immediate past 12 months and of Morinville for the past six months. They must post a $25 deposit and have five eligible voters sign his nomination papers.

The existing council is headed by Mayor Art Stapleton and consists of Councillors Moe Butt, Garnet Wiley, Harvey Atkinson, Roger Champagne, Ross Quinn and J. D. McRae. Council normally meets twice a month and councillors receive a stipend of 40 dollars for attending meetings.

The next meeting of the Morinville United Church Ladies Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Marg Middleton, on Tuesday, September 20 at 8 p.m. For directions please phone Marg at 939-2347. Information regarding Ladies Aid or United Church may also be obtained from Marg or Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell, 939-4188.

POTTERS!!!!

All past members are warmly welcomed to rejoin Morinville Pottery Club this fall. The first meeting will be September 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse and meetings will then be every Tuesday. A beginners' handicrafting course will be offered in January if there is sufficient interest shown. Further information may be obtained by phoning 939-4565.

Congratulations to Joe and Evelyn Lutz on the birth of Jackie Lynn, August 12 in the Sturgeon General Hospital. Marie, Doreen, Judy, Joanne, Danny, Kerry, Wayne and Michael were very proud of their new sister as were Uncle Ernest and Aunt Marguerite Berube of Beaumont, who were the godparents at the baptism at St. Charles Church in Mearns on August 28.

Sturgeon Minor Hockey League is holding its annual meeting on Monday, September 19 at the Sturgeon Regional Recreation offices. In the meantime, two of Morinville Motors Seniors, Bill Tieland and Ken Lissack are planning a clinic for Morinville and district minor hockey goaltenders. It will run Monday, October 17 and Saturday, October 22 from 7-9 p.m. at the Morinville Arena. The fee will be $24 payable to the Central Sturgeon Ag. Society. Morinville Motors Seniors goal staff posted one of the most enviable goals against average in their league last year and no doubt Bill and Ken will be able to help the youngsters on their way. Coaches are welcome and further information may be had from Bill at 939-3445 or Ken, 939-4807.

Morinville Curling Club is currently seeking registrations for the upcoming season. New this year, the Morinville Club is attempting to promote a seniors league in which the foursome must post a total age of 210 years. They would play Thursday afternoons. Registrations for: men's twice a week (Monday and Thursday); men's once a week (Tuesday) and mixed (Tuesday and Friday) must be in by September 15. Phone Colleen Brisson at 939-4525.

Any ladies interested in curling Wednesday evening and Tuesday afternoon, please phone Pat Johnson 939-4815.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Georges P. Vanier High School in Morinville is already off on a busy schedule.

Over the summer months, four senior high students and five junior high students were sponsored by G.P.V. to go to the 1977 A.V.A. Jasper Volleyball camp. The two camps were held on July 24-29 and July 31 - August 5. Participants of these camps were Charmaine Bulger, Colleen VanBrabant, Ryan Brenneis, Michelle Gibeault, Lucie Leduc, Louise Carignan, Lillian Morin, Carmen Schafers and Suzie Riopel. Hopefully their efforts and accomplishments will make this year's volleyball season the most exciting yet.

A very important event took place earlier this month. On September 2 - 5, the Alberta Summer Games were held in Red Deer. Five Georges P. Vanier students participated: Don Scantland, Louise Carignan, Gerry Krauskopf, Mary-Lou Gaetz and Colleen VanBrabant. Of these five, two students placed. Louise Carignan received a silver medal in long jump and Gerry Krauskopf received a bronze medal in javelin. Congratulations to all five students. Keep up the good work.

SKATING REGISTRATION

It is still possible to register for power skating. Those who wish to have their children participate should contact Francoise Froment at 939-4519 or Pauline Underwood at 939-3059 before Monday, September 19.

Registration for figure skating and learn-to-skate programs will be held on Monday, September 26 between 7 and 8 p.m. in the arena. The Morinville Lions Figure Skating Club, although a non-profit organization, must charge a registration fee to cover the costs of instructors, testing, and carnival expenses. This fee will be $19 for the ARSA program and $23 for the CFSA program. The Central Sturgeon Agricultural Society requires further payments of a $20 (CFSA) or $15 (ARSA) ice rental fee and either $15 (single) or $40 (family) for a seasons ticket. Payment to each organization must be made at time of registration.

Unlike previous years, only one registration will be held for an extended session of 15 weeks, hopefully enabling the carnival to take place before the Spring break holiday. There will NOT be a second registration in December.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Diane Wahlfeldt at 939-4425.

Neighbours and friends of Christopher and Harvey Vranas gathered at the Vranas farm on Monday, September 12, together with five combines. All took part in the combining of 160 acres of rape.

Neighbours that had no grain on their own ready to harvest, volunteered to "make hay while the sun shone," finishing the job just as the sun was setting at 8 p.m.

The men taking part were Richard, Alfred and Fred Kieser, Maurice Rousseau, Roger Champagne, and Christopher, Harvey and Wayne Vranas.

Morinville Recreation Board

A meeting of the committee to develop a Parks Master Plan for recreation was held Thursday, September 8 in the town council chambers.

We now have a map showing the present and future parks designated within the boundaries of Morinville. Controlled development is a prime factor in setting up our six year plan.

The committee has adopted a recreation flow plan to help in establishing the proposed Master Recreation Plan. Anticipating that the average age of our population will lean toward a younger classification, plans for increased tot lots, pre-school programs, transporting of children and open spaces must be planned.

Our elementary, junior high school and young adults require more diversified programs. Middleaged and senior citizens meet to have passive types of recreation.

Any suggestions from the public will be carefully considered. The Parks Master Plan for recreation is for everyone's benefit. The committee is striving to improve our lifestyle in Morinville, in the realm of recreation.

"The Company" by John Ehrlichman. The series "Washington Behind Closed Doors" currently running on ITV television is taken from this book.

"A Horseman Riding By" by R. F. Delderfield. Yet another best selling trilogy by the author of the popular "God is an Englishman" series. Book 1. "Long Summer Day." Book 2. "Post of Honour." Book 3. "The Green Gauntlet." A magnificent saga of 20th century England.

"The Other Side of Midnight," by Sidney Sheldon. A drama of two continents and four passionately intertwined lives. A spell-binder. "Dubai" by Robin Moore. The author of "The French Connection" has written yet another action packed drama in the blistering sun of the Middle East oil fields.

"Crowned Heads," by Thomas Tryon. The golden age of Hollywood and the golden people that were it's stars. Then there are a goodly number of "Harlequin Romances" a few "Hardy Boys" a few "Nancy Drews" and "Little House on the Prairie" and a big "Peanut's Jubilee" book and many more to tell about next time.

Legion news

Well people we are back in business again after a nice summer break. I hope everyone else has had a good summer, even though it was so wet, inside or outside.

Bingos have started again as of Thursday, September 8 and every Thursday from there on, starting at 8 p.m. Doors will be open at 7 p.m. at the Rec. Centre. Some 100 people enjoyed the first in this series.

Legionnaires will be called on to work at the bingos at least once a month, so be prepared. Assistance is really needed and your co-operation is required to make this a success.

And for everyone concerned, we are proceeding with the renovations at the Legion Hall. More help is needed. A great vote of thanks goes to the Fun Timer fastball team who gave their support on two weekends in a row on the renovations. Thanks Glen for getting your boys (oldtimers) to help. We will remember.

UP AND COMING EVENTS

October 1, 1977 - Farewell party for Ken (Dief) and Joyce Gowler. Steak barbecue and corn roast starts at 7 p.m. with dance and merry making to follow. Tickets are available from Dan Clarke, E. Tally, Al Davies and Cam Dubord.

October 29, 1977 will be the hallowe'en dance for legion members and guests. We are going to attempt to have the legion open every Friday night this season for the people who wish to come and enjoy cards, darts, dancing etc. For further information, please get hold of one of the executive.

The paper drop off is still going on and the drop off is at the Legion Porch. Please tie up your papers in bundles, please.

Anyone in town who has seen a black cat with a white stripe near the Legion please call 484-8513.

RQB girl marries Edmonton man

July 15 was the scene of a lovely evening wedding at St. Boniface Catholic Church. Edmonton as Heather Elizabeth Fisher, second daughter of Mel and Kathy Fisher of Riviere Qui Barre exchanged wedding vows with Gerald Moellering, eldest son of Siegfried and Elizabeth Moellering of Edmonton. Father Gemke performed the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by organist Frank McGavock.

The happy bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing a long white pompadour satin gown. The gown had a mandarin style collar, with buttons up the front of the lace covered bodice. The long sleeves were accented with a lace rose on each cuff. Her veil was a Juliet cap covered with the same lace as the dress and had two layers of sheer falling into a long train. The sheer was edged with matching lace roses. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride was attended by Debbie Aquin, matron of honor and friend of the bride; bridesmaid was Sandy Fisher, sister of the bride, and junior bridesmaid was Sylvia Moellering, sister of the groom. The girls were wearing long sea blue gowns of pompadour satin with mandarin style collar and elbow length sleeves. They carried cascade bouquets of a mixture of yellow and white daisies.

The groom was attended by Phil Aquin and Richard Strobl, friends of the groom. The groom was attired in a denim blue suit with a black velvet vest and lapels and a white ruffled shirt. The groomsmen's suits were the same with blue ruffled shirts. They all had boutonnieres of white carnations as did the fathers. The guests were ushered by Glenn Fisher, brother of the bride and Will Moellering, brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride was lovely in a long green flowered gown with three-quarter length sleeves. The mother of the groom chose a long black flowered gown. Both were wearing corsages of yellow and white daisies.

The wedding ceremony was made even more lovely by the singing of Romy and Joe Schuldhaus and Jerry Wolschuk and Erica Theal. The father of the groom added a special touch by very capable singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony a dance and buffet supper was held in the Riviere Qui Barre Community Centre for 350 guests. Dancing was to the excellent playing of the Satellites.

The head table was centered with a triple layer cake decorated with blue roses, made by Mrs. Phyllis Borle of Mearns. Mrs. Annie Wills of Riviere Qui Barre attended the guest book. Mr. Gordon Fuhr, neighbor of the bride's parents was master of ceremonies, and Mr. Angus McDonnell gave the toast to the bride.

Out of town guests were Gerald's grandparents and cousin from Germany. Others were from New Westminster, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Wembley, Alberta.

The happy couple went on a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone National Park. They are now making their home in Edmonton.

SKIP WILD OAT CONTROL THIS YEAR AND YOU MAY PAY FOR IT IN 1978, 1979, 1980...

Remember this important fact about your major weed problem. Wild oats left uncontrolled in your 1978 crop can germinate any time in the next eight years. What's more, it takes only a few wild oat plants per square foot to seriously reinfest your land and reduce yields.

The message is clear—don't skip your chemical wild oat control this year. Do what more and more farmers are doing—apply Avadex® BW herbicide by Monsanto every Fall.

It can effectively control wild oats in the Spring, before most of them even emerge. Before they can rob your wheat, barley or other labelled crops of vital moisture and nutrients. And you of yield. Fall applied Avadex BW can also save you time and labour next spring. Avadex BW. It can boost next year's yield.

Avadex® BW is a registered trademark of the Monsanto Company. Always read and follow the label directions for Avadex BW.

Rivard - Petrie exchange vows at St. Michaels

By Liz McLeod
On one of the few sunny afternoons this summer a beautiful wedding was held when Miss Kathleen Anne

Petrie and Mr. Omar Daniel Rivard were united in holy matrimony. The double ring ceremony was performed on Saturday, July 29 by the Reverend Father Michael Helfernan with Olive Emond as organist, in St. Michael's Catholic Church, Leduc, before an altar decorated with mixed fresh garden flowers.

Kathleen is the second daughter of John and Sheila Petrie of Onoway. Omar is the son of Remi and Marie Rivard of R.R. #2 Leduc.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her floor length gown of sheer white organza over white taffeta. Layers of sheer ruffles formed the cap sleeves, bottom of the gown and the train. Blue and white sheer matte flowers trimmed the neckline, waist and bottom of the gown while two flowered streamers flowed from the waist at the back of her dress.

Her long veil, trimmed in lace, with blue and white flowers, was held in place by a white flowered headpiece and she carried a large bouquet of red roses, baby's breath, lily of the valley and fern, while the streamers were tied with rosebuds.

The bridesmaids - Brenda Gratton, sister to the bride and Judy Rivard, sister-in-law to the groom, were lovely in their long blue gowns, featuring a V-neckline, pink and blue flowered butterfly elbow length sleeves, complimented by wearing blue flowers in their hair and they carried pink and blue blossom bouquets.

The groom was handsome in his white tailed suit, accented by a light blue ruffled shirt, and a white bowtie. His boutonniere was made up of two red carnations and lily of the valley.

The best men for this happy occasion were Omer Gratton and Dennis Rivard, the groom's brother. They were dashing in their light blue suits, white ruffled shirts and light blue bowties, with their boutonniere being a single carnation with lily of the valley.

The ushers were Barry St. Jacques and Dennis St. Jacques.

All wedding party flowers were made by the mother and sister of the bride, and the wedding cake was decorated by Sheila also.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother was a picture in her floor length pink gown with darker pink flowers and a round neckline. The gown was styled with a

For her son's wedding, the groom's mother was equally elegant in her V-necked floor length pink gown. Like the bride's mother she wore a corsage of white rose and rosebuds with lily of the valley.

Blue and white flowers formed this happy couple's names, placed on the wall above where they sat.

The three-tiered wedding cake was artfully decorated with pink and blue flowers.

The congenial master of ceremonies was Bob Gehlert. Constant Boissonnault, uncle and godfather to the bride, proposed the toast to the bride. Then a cousin, Maurice Boissonnault gave a little talk after supper. Father Michael Helfernan delighted all with his singing.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a red goucho vest type suit, complimented by a red striped white blouse and wore a beautiful big corsage of white roses.

After their honeymoon trip to southern Alberta and Waterton Lake National Park, this charming couple will make their home at R.R. #2 Leduc.

Babies in the news

By Liz McLeod
John and Lucille Gagnon of Calahoo, who are presently in Tofield, Alberta, are receiving congratulatory messages since the birth of their daughter, Stacy Joanne, who was born in Tofield hospital at 8:15 a.m. on Monday, August 29, weighing 8 lbs. 2 ozs. and a sister for Chaney.

Proud grandparents are Lucille's parents, Edward (Lamarr) and Bernice Labonte of Calahoo and John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gagnon of Cold Lake, Alberta.

Equally excited and proud are the great grandparents in Calahoo - Mrs. P. Arvilla Majeau and Mr. Fred Labonte.

Goldenagers welcome Carrie Akerman

By Liz McLeod
The senior citizens of Calahoo certainly look forward to gathering in the Gazebo for an entertaining afternoon and Wednesday, August 24 was no exception, when nearly 30 folks enjoyed each others company.

It was so nice to see Mrs. R. W. Carrie Akerman of Edmonton come to the meeting. She is presently visiting at the home of her daughter, Daphne Kerr in Calahoo, come along with them and Alex to this meeting.

Members enjoyed the new shuffleboard, as well as cards before all joined in playing bingo at a penny a card.

During lunch, birthday

greetings were sung to Jim Verbeek, Myles Kerr and Mrs. V. Cecile Berry.

When pictures were taken, Daphne Kerr and Mrs. T. Rose Callihoo, who had August birthdays, joined in the group for pictures.

"CALAHOO TRAILS" AVAILABLE

It was announced that the second printing of 200 of the Calahoo Trails history book have arrived, so anyone wanting a copy may have one through Calahoo W.I. members or phone Mary Dalheim at 967-5622.

The Calahoo Goldenage Club will meet again on Wednesday, September 14 and visitors are always welcome.

Glenda Patrick is shower honoree

By Liz McLeod
The evening was crisp and clear with frost warnings out, but that didn't dampen the spirit of the 58 relatives, neighbors and friends who turned out to extend best wishes to Miss Glenda Patrick, Pana and Carol's daughter, at the miscellaneous shower held in her honor, on Thursday, September 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Gazebo.

The flowers used to decorate were special since they were made with loving hands by Marvin and Linda Perrott's children - a darling miniature bouquet of sweetpeas in a plastic pill box vase. The larger bouquet was fashioned beautifully by Mrs. Ed (Elsie) Horn and Kim Schultz brought a single orange pink rose in a crystal vase, making the honored table most attractive with real meaning.

Seated at this table were bride elect Glenda, her bridesmaid Miss Charlene Propp of Stony Plain, as well as mother of the bride to be Mrs. A. Carol Patrick of Calahoo, Mrs. E. Lorraine Berube and Kim Schultz, all of Calahoo.

Several games of bingo were played with prizes won, before it was time to open the many lovely gifts.

The gifts were passed around for all to admire, as well as Glenda's diamond ring, tied to the ribbon off the gifts.

during this time.

Glenda thanked everyone graciously for all coming and for the gifts and then lunch was served and visiting continued.

The door prize was won by Ron and Roseanne's young daughter, Tracy Quintal of Calahoo.

Many thanks went to Miss Kim Schultz, Mrs. Ed (Jeanette) Patrick and Jodi York, for making this such a memorable occasion.

Deadline for applications - SEPTEMBER 26, 1977.

Gibbons News

By Karen Hogg

Hats off to Mr. John Vanderspoel who just completed a two year term as president of the Agriculture Society. John was a member of the Society when it first started up four years ago and is one of the many persons who has dedicated his spare time to the running and maintenance of our arena. John was a president in a million. All of the plywood for stalls at our Agri Fair were donated by John. Major maintenance repairs in the arena were done free by John construction as well as blue prints, he also acted as treasurer. I know John will be missed on the board this year. To you John Vanderspoel - Hats off!

The Gibbons Agricultural Society held its annual meeting on September 6 with 29 people in attendance. The new executive and board members are: President, Eric Abell; 1st Vice Pres., Grant McWhirter; 2nd Vice Pres., Don Moir; Secretary, Marj Osborne; Treasurer, Lorraine Isley.

Board members are: Morris Montpellier, George Fraser, Annie Chipchar, Stella Langier, Clay Osborne, John Kampjes, Don Bevington, Karen Hogg and Barb Woods.

After the election of officers the first meeting under new management was held.

Hockey school will begin on September 21 offering nine hours basic skill and instruction at a fee of $25.00.

Figure skating was a big concern with no one as of yet wanting to organize figure and power skating. If anyone is interested please phone Karen Hogg at 923-6924 as it would be a shame for our little ones to miss out.

Hockey registration will be held on Saturday, Sept. 17 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the arena.

Anyone interested in taking over the job of the concession is asked to call Karen Hogg at 973-6924.

Tap and jazz dancing will be starting up on September 19 at the Community Hall in Bon Accord. For further information please phone Marion Nicholson at 455-

On Thursday, September 15, the Farmers' Market will have the home economist to demonstrate nutritional school box lunches and preparation of zucchini. Everyone is welcome to attend. Leathercrafts, farm fresh vegetables, honey, Barbie doll clothes, home baking, jams and jellies, artex supplies and fresh eggs are just some of the items available to you this week at the farmers' market.

CUBS AND SCOUTS

Registration and an organizational meeting will be held on September 19 at 7 p.m. in the Community Hall. We urgently require two additional leaders for both cubs and scouts. Anyone interested please phone Joyce Ayson at 923-2109.

The Cadets will be starting up again for another year on Monday, September 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Bon Accord Hall. Anyone 13 - 18 years of age are welcome to attend. During the summer the kids were away at different camps such as athletic, leadership, photography, basic training.

Carolyne Hutchings was one a camp scholarship at Jarvie up by Hinton where kids from Ontario to B.C., were in attendance. This was a two week survival camp. Carolyne was famous for her Puff Ball!

Neil Porsild went to Camp Borden in Ontario. Neil went on a athletic scholarship for six weeks.

Fred Hutchings was up at Cold Lake on a leadership course for senior leaders. Fred won the Top Alberta cadet mark out of 35 cadets. The top cadet was from New Brunswick. Congratulations Fred!

Doug Russell of Redwater was up on a Musicians scholarship with a Phase 2 Band. The boys played at Calgary Stampede, Edmonton Exhibition, Red Deer and all the country fairs. These kids were up before a selection board and each had the honour of being selected.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. John Mahan and family on the loss of a wife and mother. Mrs. Peggy Mahan of Rocky Rapids.

She leaves to mourn her husband John, daughter Diane Sullivan and her three sons, George, Eric and Johnny and seven grandchildren. Also surviving are her sisters, Mrs. Bill Williams (Helen), Mrs. Jack Hogg (Nellie), and step sister Mrs. Dick Rowsell (Winnie) and one brother, Donald Christie.

GIBBONS RECREATION BOARD REVITALIZED

With the help and support of the Gibbons town council, Mary Kirkpatrick, superintendent of Sturgeon Regional Recreation and Gary McClegham, recreation consultant of the Government of Alberta, the Gibbons Recreation Board has now been revitalized.

A meeting was held on September 8, 1977 in the Joint Use facility at which a lot of interest was shown. The executive was elected as follows: Chairman, Ray Foster; Vice Chairman, Lloyd Houston; Sec. Treas., Elaine Zutz.

However there are still people needed to work on recreation committees in order to fulfill our role and responsibilities to the Gibbons community and area. If you are interested in helping, please contact Ray Foster at 923-2928 or Elaine Zutz at 923-2651 or attend our next recreation board meeting to be held on September 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Joint Use facility, arts and crafts room.

Don Epp and Marc Boisjoli have returned from the Alberta Summer Games with three medals. Marc won a silver medal in the 100 meter spring and a silver medal in the 200 meter sprint.

Don won a bronze medal in the long jump.

The 4 x 100 meter relay team, with Darryl Zaychuk as lead runner and Mari racing the final 100 meters, placed fourth, just a fraction of a second behind the three winning teams.

The boys found strong competition in the more experienced 16 year old athletes. Both athletes thoroughly enjoyed the three days in Red Deer and were pleased to be part of the keen competitions.

Memories re-lived of the old landing trail

By Margarette J. Atkinson

On a dull, quiet Labor Day weekend, a contingent of very brave and hardy people set out to re-live the ways of the courageous pioneers of the early 1900's.

All on horseback, they rode into the town of Gibbons early on Monday morning, September 5, after travelling and camping along "The Old Landing Trail."

A history of bygone days was brought to everyone of the many residents of Gibbons, who were there at the Legion Hall of Gibbons, to greet the riders.

Mayor Reg Austin, a man who has lived through the times when the settlers were still travelling down that old trail, was a very happy person on seeing this event to its completion. The riders had coffee and lunch, loaded their horses up into the big white "livestock" truck and then boarded a bus to Edmonton.

A wonderful little woman, who as a young girl, went up that "old landing trail" in 1905 is Miss Connie Roberts.

In that year of 1905, Rev. Roberts had recently arrived from England to take a ministerial position at the Anglican Church of Ft. Chipewyan. He had brought along his wife Edith, two daughters and three sons.

They arrived by stage coach, then started up the old landing trail. This was before Edmonton was inaugurated. They travelled by a partially covered wagon and had to eat bannock, when they camped to have their meals. There was no white bread to be had.

After several years at Ft. Chipewyan, the Roberts family took a post at the Anglican Church of Gibbons, when it stood near the trestle north of Gibbons at a place then called "Battenburg."

Travelling back from Ft. Chipewyan they travelled by stage coach, then on a railway hand-car and then by train.

The Landing Trail riders who arrived at Gibbons on September 5 were fascinated by the trail itself. Much of the trail's history was related to them by Connie Roberts, who is still very active. The riders heard these histories, after travelling and camping in much the same way themselves, through chilly, damp weather.

So a bit of the old pioneer times came to the hearts of all who were there to greet the 1977 pioneers on our beautiful "Old Landing Trail."

Vimy News

By Rachel Ringuette

On September 7, Vimy held their annual Co-op meeting on the sewer system.

The election of new officers was held. Members serving on the Co-op for the past three years were Jim Henderson, president; Donna Bomersback, secretary; John Bombay, Jack Burns and Rolly Lemoges. Terms of office have ended for Rolly Lemoges and Donna Bomersback. Jim Henderson resigned with one year left to serve. Jim no longer lives in the hamlet, and felt someone in the community should take over his position. Donna Bomersback was re-elected as secretary for another three years. Alphonse Ringuette was elected, taking over Rolly Lemoges position for a three year term. Bob Burns was elected to sit out Jim Henderson's position for one year.

The Vimy sewer system was constructed three years ago and has proved to be very successful. There has been no complaints about the system over the past three years.

Vimy is also in the process of looking into a water system. Guest speaker at the Co-op meeting was Mr. Harder, utilities officer for the Westlock district. A few months back the community had a meeting with Mr. Harder, and at that time had asked Mr. Harder to look into the cost of a water system for the hamlet. Mr. Harder had an engineering company do a preliminary study for construction of a water system but said that at the moment nothing can be done until they find a water source. Mr. Harder will be in touch with the community on any findings.

Market cattle information service proving successful

After four months of operation, the Market Information Centre has experienced an overwhelming success, reported Roman Hrytsak, market and field services officer, with the Alberta Cattle Commission. The Centre has been receiving over 135 calls per day.

Producers are more aware of the program and are starting to contribute price information on direct sales. These reported direct sales are features that distinguish the service from other telephone recorded market messages.

To accommodate the increase in data received from producers and country auctions, a separate feeder and stocker information line has been installed. On Monday, August 29, 1977 the Market Information Centre made slaughter cattle prices available on the existing 1-800-222-6512 toll free line, while feeder and stocker prices will be available by dialing toll

The bulk of information on this new line will consist of feeder and stocker prices obtained from Alberta country auctions along with special sales, terminal market quotations in Alberta and selected Canadian and U.S. markets.

Messages will be released three times daily - namely the morning report at 10:45 a.m., the noon report at 12:30 p.m., and a closing market summary at 3:30 p.m.

Price information from country auctions will be reported on a regional basis. Detailed information on individual markets will be available by calling the Market Reporter in Edmonton.

Namao News

By Norma Crozier

Namao United Church Sunday School will begin regular classes next Sunday, September 18. A rally day coffee party will start at 11 a.m.

Sunday, October 2 will be a special joint service of all three congregations held at Patricia United Church at 11 a.m. to mark World Communion Sunday. An evening service will be held that night at 7:30 p.m. in the Bon Accord Church.

Congratulations to proud grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Crozier on the birth of their first grand-daughter, born to David and Pamela (Crozier) Margolus on September 8, weighing 7 lbs. 6 ozs. Also a first great grand-daughter for Mrs. Isabel Crozier.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Craig surprised them last Saturday evening with a "house-warming party" in their new farm home. Over 100 called to wish Hugh, Donna and their children many years of happiness in their new home.

524 Sturgeon Air Cadet Squadron will hold their first parade on Tuesday, September 13 in the Bon Accord Community Hall at 7:30 p.m. Any cadet between the ages of 13 and 18 years is welcome to attend. All eligible cadets attended a summer camp and learned skills they will be using in the squadron.

Unifarm urges farm oriented colleges

One way to ensure that agriculture-oriented colleges remain so is to have a board of governors with farm backgrounds.

The opportunity now exists for persons with such backgrounds to contribute to the future of the province. Four Alberta colleges will become self-governing by September, 1978, requiring boards of governors and Unifarm is urging its members to consider nominations for positions at Olds; Keyano, in Fort McMurray; Lakeland in Vermilion and Fairview colleges.

Apart from conducting the business of the college, governors will contribute to the determination of general policy of the colleges including curriculum, organization, administration and operation.

Dr. A. E. Hohol, the minister of Advanced Education and Manpower is now accepting nominations and applications from those region residents interested. There are seven public members on the board, as well as the College president, one faculty and one student representative. Appointments are for up to a three year term.

Nominations, agreed to by the nominee, or applications from interested persons, should be submitted, together with a complete resume, no later than September 15, 1977 to the Minister, 130 Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta. T5K 2B6.

60 Plus club opens fall season

60 Plus Club, of Namao, opened the fall season on September 1 in the Namao Hall.

Twenty Five members gathered at 1:30 P.M. for exercises under the direction of Club President, Mrs. Daisy Craig.

The power was off, so no heat or light was available until 4 P.M. Luckily the stove in the kitchen is gas, so by candle light, lunch was prepared by the Hostesses

Mrs. Hazel Martin and Mrs. Winnie Bongard. Bridge, "500", pool and the good old last art of conversation were the order of the day.

We were delighted to have Mr. Elmer Rye bring out his Father, Mr. Lawrence Rye, our most Senior Citizen, for a visit.

Next meeting is Sept. 15th at 1:30 p.m. in the Namao Hall: All Senior Citizens of the Namao District, and their guests, are welcome.

4H land dedication ceremony held at Battle Lake

This year, the 4H in Alberta, is celebrating 60 years of "Working for the Future."

Highlighting celebrations is the purchase of 143 acres of Battle Lake land, for a proposed 4H Center.

Sunday, September 4, saw the official land dedication from Dr. Grant MacEwan to Alberta's movement.

Held on the shore of Battle

Lake, the ceremonies were both entertaining and moving: a momentous occasion for the 1,000 past and present 4H participants who attended.

Among the platform guests were: Mr. Allan Shenfield, Dr. Grant MacEwan, Noreen Onofryszyk, Reverend Stu Fraser, Honourable Mr. Schellenberger, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, and an R.C.M.P. Constable in full parade dress.

Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Allan Shenfield, Chairman of the 4H Foundation of Alberta.

Mr. Shenfield, on behalf of 4H Alberta, officially accepted a gift N.W.T. flag.

A token from a Northwest Territories resident, the flag flies with the 4H and Canadian flags on the Battle

Noreen Onofryszyk, the Premier's Award winner, led the 4H Pledge and thank-you to Dr. MacEwan.

Reverend Stu Fraser led the Invocation, with Mr. Schellenberger then offering greetings from the Government of Canada.

As a 4H Alberta representative, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, President of the 4H Advisory Council, presented the cheque to Mr. MacEwan.

Dedication and determination of many, has made possible the purchase of this beautiful land: "Phase One" is complete, but only further dedication - to nature - will keep it an aesthetic and meaningful spot.

The challenge is ours: "Fellow 4Hers!"

Calahoo hockey registration

All boys and girls interested in playing in the Calahoo Sports Association minor hockey program this season are asked to register this Monday, September 19 at the Gazebo between 7 and 9 p.m.

A fee of only $2 will be charged which makes it one of the best buys in the country.

If you are unable to attend please call Rita Letendre at 967-5159 and she will see to it that your star of the future will be registered.

To date it is not known what age groups will be formed so it is most important that you register so the hard working Calahoo Sports Association will have an idea how many boys and girls want to play.

Senior hockey players wishing to try out for the Scorpions are asked to call Emile Berube at 459-5645. Practices are expected to start in early October for the coming Sturgeon Valley Senior Hockey League.

Beef Marketing Statistics

The yearly average prices for slaughter steers and heifers declined last year, but prices for slaughter cows increased.

This is a continuation of the trend of fluctuating livestock prices that has marked the livestock industry for the past three years.

The 1976 Livestock Market Review prepared by Agriculture Canada's market information service says that worldwide inflation and strong feed grain prices are the causes of the unstable prices.
